Soviets Ask Time; Big Four Meeting In Showdown Stage

PARIS (UP)—The Big Four conference on Germany reached the showdown stage today, with both East and West urgently consulting their governments on new secret proposals.

The conference was in recess for the day. The suspension of formal sessions was by mutual agreement.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky needed time to consult Moscow on a "last chance" proposal by the West, and to get directions for his answer. The proposal was believed to involve a limited agreement on resumption of German trade and free access to Berlin.

The western powers needed time to consider Vishinsky's counter-suggestions and his initial reaction to the West's plan for preventing this conference from becoming a total failure.

To guard against premature leaks, Secreary of State Dean Acheson imposed an unusually rigid gag rule on members of his delegation. He forbade them to talk about the secret deal now in the works.

"Some proposals have been made which need consideration," one western delegation spokesman said. "It is still hoped that this meeting will end by the end of this week. But Mr. Vishinsky is awaiting instructions.

"Don't go on the assumption, however, that the western powers were the only ones to make proposals during the last few days of secret meetings and behind the scenes meetings."

Report Missing Quebec Boy Found Buried Under House

MONTREAL (CP) — Hilaire Beauregard, assistant director of the Quebec Provincial Police, left Montreal today for Eastman, Que., following a report that the body of six-year-old Michel Fontaine had been found buried under the house of his farmer father, Charles Fontaine.

This news was given out by Noel Dorion, special crown prosecutor, after he had left the office of Mr. Beauregard.

Mr. Dorion said there were few details but that the report seemed so well-founded that there was nothing to do but investigate on the spot.

This development came after a week of unsubstantiated rumors that the body of the farm boy who had been missing since May 30 had been found.

Until today, police said they had uncovered nothing concrete in the hunt for the boy.

Husband Of Woman Named In F.B.I. Report Asks Apology

WASHINGTON (AP)—Angry denials—one coupled with a doubled demand for an apology from J. Edgar Hoover—boiled today in the wake of publication of secret reports from F.B.I. files.

Thirty such reports, all relating to internal security matters and to suspected espionage agents, have been introduced in the evidence in Judith Coplon's trial on espionage charges. The reports quote "informants" identified only by code numbers.

The repeated demand for an apology from Dr. Edward U. Condon, director of the Federal Bureau of Standards, whose wife was mentioned in one of the reports. She was said by an informant to have arranged a "contract" between a business man and a suspected Russian agent.

"Who attacks my wife must take me on," Condon said in a first statement. "Mr. J. Edgar Hoover owes her a personal apology. . . ."

Hoover, director of the F.B.I., maintained silence.

Condon charged that under F.B.I. procedures "gossip, rumor, and hearsay are gathered from witnesses of unknown integrity or veracity-witnesses who, moreover, are never asked to face those whom they slander and whose very identities are kept secret."

If the F.B.I. is after facts, Condon suggested it should question him and his wife. "This they have not done."

Pro-Italians Lead In Trieste Voting

TRIESTE (AP)—Christian Democrats, who demand Trieste's return to Italy, grabbed a lead today in first meagre, unofficial returns from Sunday's municipal election.

The Astra agency's compilation of 2,019 of an estimated 167,500 votes cast showed that Christian Democrats polled 912 votes.

Astra, an Italian news service, said 1,414 of the 2,019 votes counted were cast for pro-Italian, anti-Communist candidates.

The pro-Tito "Italo-Slavo Popular Front" got only 43 votes.

Anti-Tito Communists, who follow the Cominform line, polled 342.

A 60-member Trieste city council was being elected, the first in 27 years. It will adminster local affairs under allied military government general supervision.

Horses Saved As Fire Sweeps Dairy Building

Firemen had their eyebrows singed battling a blaze which roared through a dairy company's stable in Toronto. Fed by tons of baled hay and straw, the fire raced through the building. Four horses were rescued. Fifty others were removed, but could not have been rescued if they had been inside the stable. This unusual fire photo caught not only the firemen in the line of duty but a news cameraman perched on a building close to the fire.—(SNS Photo)

Girl At Shawnigan Dives To Save Unconscious Youth

A tragedy was averted at Shawnigan Lake Sunday when Frank Greeley, 1150 Mason Street, reported to be in his early 20's, was dragged unconscious from the lake and revived by artificial respiration.

Const. Robert Ross of the B.C. Police at Shawnigan Lake, says Greeley was swimming off the public beach at the north end of the lake with a friend, Kenneth Dawe, 1177 Roslyn Road, when he sank.

Daw tried to aid Greeley, but became exhausted and barely managed to reach the raft himself.

Beverly Ross, 18-year-old daughter of Const. Ross and a member of the Y.M.C.A. Aquanymphs swimming team in the city, saw from the beach the man was in difficulties and swam out to the scene.

She dove down in about eight feet of water and managed to bring Greeley to the surface where L. McMullen and J. Flanagan, believed to be from Victoria, brought the unconscious man to shore in a boat.

Mr. McMullen applied artificial respiration and succeeded in bringing Greeley back to consciousness.

Boundaries Changed

Education Minister W. T. Straith today annouced the adjustment of the boundaries of Cowichan and Ladysmith-Chemainus school districts.

Westholme and Crofton, now in the Cowichan school district, will be transferred to the Ladysmith-Chemainus school district.

This adjustment will warrant the construction of a junior high school at Chemainus to which Westholme and Crofton students will be taken by bus.

More Than 800 Candidates Nominated For Commons

By the Canadian Press

This was official nomination day for Canada's June 27 general election.

Starting at the Atlantic, nominations were closing at 3 p.m., local daylight time, in 254 of the country's 260 constituencies—six remote ridings closed nominations May 30. Candidates were required to have their official papers and deposits of $200 each in the hands of returning officers by then.

Up to Sunday night, compilation by the Canadian Press showed 801 candidates had been announced.

These were 258 Liberals, 247 Progressive Conservatives, 171 C.C.F., 51 Union of Electors, 24 Social Credit, 19 Labor-Progressive, 17 Independents and 14 representing minor groups.

There are 262 Commons seats at stake. Two of the 260 constituencies—Halifax and Queens, in Prince Edward Island—elect two members each, bringing the seat total to 262.

The number of seats open for election in the 1945 general election was 245. The total was increased by 17 through the addition of seven for Newfoundland and 10 for new ridings created since 1945.

The total of candidates officially nominated in 1945 was 954, the largest field in Canadian political history.

At dissolution April 30, the standings of parties in the Commons was: Liberals, 125; Progressive Conservatives, 69; C.C.F., 32; Social Credit, 12; others, six; vacancies, one.

Berlin Railway Strikers Spurn Plan To Resume Work

BERLIN (AP) — Representatives of Berlin's railway strikers Sunday rebuffed the occupation powers and their own top union leaders by spurning a United States appeal for an immediate end to their 23-day-old strike.

An overwhelming majority of 600 union officials voted instead to refer the settlement terms put forward by the four powers to a referendum tomorrow.

The settlement terms were worked out by the United States, Britain and France, and agreed to by Russia. The United States commandant in Berlin, Brig.-Gen. Frank L. Howley, asked the strikers to accept the offer.

The terms called for payment of 75 per cent of wages in west marks instead of the east marks that are worth only one-quarter as much.

Cause Of Death Of Elderly Vancouver Couple Under Probe

VANCOUVER (BUP) — Police today were awaiting the result of a coroner's investigation to determine the cause of the deaths of an elderly Vancouver couple who had been dead for five days when found by a neighbor Sunday.

Police said 65-year-old Mike Geluch and his wife, Mary, 60, died from unknown causes and the possibility of double murder was not being ruled out.

Police said a preliminary examination of the bodies had failed to disclose the exact cause of death.

The body of Geluch was found lying face down on the kitchen floor of the four-room bungalow, covered with a bedspread. The body of his wife was found in a rear bedroom, covered with a blanket and a towel around the head.

Second Emergency Cabinet Meeting Faces Situation

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Attlee and his cabinet today met to consider the threat of a strike of 50,000 London trainmen which would cripple all surface and underground railways in the capital.

London area members of the National Union of Railwaymen are meeting tonight to decide whether to call the walkout.

The cabinet also had before it a petition from 1,000 railway men at Paddington Station asking the government to dismiss the railway executive which operates the nationalized rail system.

The railway employees demand immediate resumption of negotiations on their request for a pay increase of 10 shillings ($2) a week. The railway executive has refused to conduct talks on a general raise for all railway men while "Sunday only" strikes continue.

Another problem the cabinet faced was the strike of dock workers at British ports which has tied up shipping. This situation eased somewhat when stevedores at Liverpool voted to resume work after being idle 17 days.

The shipping strike is an outgrowth of the strike of the Canadian Seamen's Union which began more than two months ago. The British dock workers went on strike after they were ordered to handle Canadian ships.

No statement was issued after the cabinet meeting, which lasted only 35 minutes. But it was believed action was planned to uphold the authority of the railways against unofficial strike action.

Resume Work On 70 Vessels

Heeding the broadcast warning of Labor Minister George Isaacs, the majority of Liverpool's 5,000 striking dockers voted to return to their jobs today, enabling full resumption of loading export cargoes which were piling up the Mersey-side waterfront.

The dockers resumed work at a.m. along Liverpool's seven-mile waterfront, where 70 deep-sea ships have been held up by the strike.

Among the first ships on which work was begun was the Canadian vessel Dromore, whose isolation the men had been demanding after she was brought from Avonmouth, Bristol, because of a strike of her crew, which belongs to the Canadian Seamen's Union.

Meanwhile, Bristol dock strikers planned to meet again to reconsider their position in the light of the Liverpool resumption.

For the fifth successive week the "Sundays-only" strike of engineers and firemen dislocated rail traffic in the northeastern, eastern and Scottish regions. But Sunday's stoppage was less severe than the previous weeks.

Prime Minister Attlee returned from a week-end at Chequers, his country home, to preside at the emergency meeting the the ministers, second since Friday.

Lewis Plans New Benefits As 450,000 Miners Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—John L. Lewis' 450,000 coal diggers today began a week-long walkout—but the United Mine Workers' chief kept working to get them more benefits.

His plan may include a "share-the-work" system to give all miners about the same amount of work, and pay, when demand for coal is slack.

"If we are going to starve in this industry at any time, we will just all stave together," he said at a union convention last fall.

The labor leader ordered the walkout as new contract discussions were under way with one segment of the industry — the Southern Coal Producers' Association.

As usual, the nearly half-million U.M.W. dues payers did what their leader ordered—they stayed home. Lewis called the walkout under a provision of the contract which says the miners work only when "willing and able."

The U.M.W.'s present contract expires June 30. The miners are scheduled to resume work a week from today—then quit again on June 25 to start their annual 10-day paid vacations.

Town Of Lytton Threatened By Flames

Big Four Trying To Save Face

By R. H. SHACKFORD

PARIS (UP) — he Big Four Foreign Ministers are holding super-secret talks in an attempt to reach a three-point face-saving agreement on Germany this week, authoritative sources said today.

An agreement, at least in principle, on the bogged-down Austrian peace treaty also may be concluded before the present council session ends, the same sources said.

The agreement on Germany, designed to give the three-weeks-old council session at least an outward appearance of success, reportedly would provide for:

1. Establishment of a committee of foreign ministers' deputies to continue study of a German peace treaty and the political unification of both Germany and the City of Berlin.

2. Establishment of a committee of Germans in Berlin under supervision of the four Allied commanders there, to work out means for the final lifting of the blockade.

3. A limited accord on restoration of east-west trade between the two halves of Germany.

(See story, "Berliners May See," on page 3.)

'Flashbulbs' Over Manhattan

The U.S. Air Force created this "string of pearls" over New York City in an aerial photography experiment. This time exposure shows the series of photo-flash cartridges dropped by a B-17 bomber. The bright bursts of light, each representing 50,000,000 candlepower, were set off at intervals of about four seconds. They were accompanied by sharp reports, but forewarned New Yorkers calmly watched the show.—(Photo by NEA-Acme staff correspondent Andy Lopez)

Mercury Soaring In East

By British United Press

Temperatures throughout eastern Canada climbed steadily today, heightening the forest fire hazard and giving little relief to the parched farm areas of central Ontario.

The Public Weather Office reported temperatures of 85 degrees in Montreal, 87 in Ottawa, 82 in Toronto and Moncton, and the coolest areas were on the east coast, where the mercury hovered in the low 60's.

MOVES SLOWLY

Cooler weather was expected to reach the eastern provinces tonight with the movement of a cold air mass which today was over Manitoba and Saskatchewan, it was moving slowly eastward, the weather office said, and would extend as far as Quebec by late tonight.

Scattered showers and occasional thunderstorms would accompany the cold air, but there would be insufficient rain to repair damage of the drought that has cost Ontario farmers $100,000,000 to date.

The farmers needed continuous rain, the forecaster said, and no hope could be held out for that.

Two Blocks Destroyed With $300,000 Loss; Wind Fanning Embers

LYTTON, B.C. (B.U.P.)—A major fire ripped through the historic and colorful town of Lytton, B.C., for the third time in its history today, destroying seven buildings and for a while threatening the whole town.

The estimated $300,000 blaze was the third in 18 years to sweep through the hard-luck town of the storied Cariboo, made famous during the gold rush days of 1858.

Fanned by near gale-force winds, the flames spread from a warehouse containing barrels of coal oil and within an hour had completely destroyed two blocks.

Totally destroyed were two warehouses, a general store and adjoining garage; a meat market, a drug store, a restaurant, the B.C. forest service offices and garage, and a two-story home. No one was injured.

The town, 171 miles east of Vancouver with a population of about 1,200, turned out in force to hold back the flames. One hundred fire fighters brought it under control late this morning, but watchers this afternoon were spotted over the smoldering fires in case the high wind revived the flames.

At the height of the blaze, clouds of black smoke from burning coal oil could be seen four miles away. Telephone operators in the town stayed on duty while firemen played water on the side of the heated structure.

She will be detained at Ellis Island until the case is reviewed in Washington.

Speeding Charge Against Diplomat Will Be Pressed

PORT CREDIT, Ont. (CP)—Police Chief Joe Nelson today refused to drop a speeding charge against a Brazilian diplomat despite requests from the Canadian Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs that he do so.

Caio de Lima Cavacanti, commercial counsellor of the Brazilian Embassy in Ottawa, did not appear when his case was called in court today. Port Credit police charge Cavacanti drove through this village near Toronto, at 60 miles an hour with the Brazilian Ambassador in his automobile. The case was adjourned a week.

Chief Nelson read a letter from the Under-Secretary of State asking that the driver be allowed diplomatic immunity. Chief Nelson said he refused to drop the charge because "diplomatic immunity won't bring back lives of people killed in accidents."

Woodward Plans Big Store In Edmonton

EDMONTON (BUP) — Construction of a $2,000,000 department store in South Edmonton is announced today by W. C. Woodward of Vancouver, president of Woodward's Limited.

Negroes Ask Truman To End Washington 'Jim Crow' Rule

WASHINGTON (UP) — The National Negro Council today asked President Truman to issue immediately an executive order abolishing "Jim Crow" practices and racial segregation in the District of Columbia.

This action, the council said in a telegram to the President, would "clear the way" for Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, negro diplomat and United Nations mediator for Palestine, to accept a post as Assistant Secretary of State.

Bunche recently turned down Mr. Truman's offer of the post. He said he could not "afford" to give up his duties as chief of the U.N.'s trusteeship council. He conceded later that discrimination in the capital had influenced his decision.

Mr. Truman has nominated George C. McGhee to be assistant Secretary of State for Near Eastern and African affairs. It was that post that was offered to Dr. Bunche.

MacArthur Says Reds Inciting Disorder, Violence In Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Gen. MacArthur told Russia today she was inciting "disorder and violence" in Japan. The Supreme Allied occupation commander also accused the Soviets of "inconsistent demagoguery."

In a bristling reply to a letter from the Russian mission chief charging Japanese labor was being suppressed, MacArthur said:

"The Soviet letter, replete with inaccuracies and misrepresentations of fact, could be disregarded as routine Soviet propaganda did it not so completely mask the Soviet role as an inciter of disorder and violence in an otherwise orderly Japanese society."

The letter which drew MacArthur's fire was written by Lt.-Gen. K. N. Derevyanko, chief of the Soviet mission, and it activities of trade unions and of other democratic organizations" in "violation of the Potsdam agreement."

Elderly Couple Slain In Vancouver; Robbery Suspected

VANCOUVER (CP)—The mystery deaths of an aged couple—a man and wife—today had police mystified.

In a blood-spattered bungalow, police found the bodies of 65-year-old Mike Geluch and his 60-year-old wife, Mary. They had been dead five or six days.

The bodies were badly decomposed, and the cause of death could not be determined immediately.

Police suspect robbery as the motive. The house had been ransacked and a pocket in Geluch's trousers turned inside out.

The body of Geluch was found face down on the kitchen floor, covered with a bedspread. The body of Mrs. Geluch was in a bedroom, covered with blood-soaked bedclothes. A towel was wound around the head. The end of it was in the mouth, apparently used as a gag.

No weapon was found in the house and preliminary autopsies failed to reveal the cause of death. There was a small gash in Geluch's forehead and a cut on the left little finger. There were no marks on the body of the woman.

Police termed it one of the most baffling cases in years.

Geluch was a retired railway worker. Neighbors described he and his wife as "a quiet, happy couple."

Father Of Missing Boy Denies Body Found Buried

EASTMAN, Que. (CP) — Charles Fontaine, farmer of this remote Eastern Townships back-concession area, denied today reports emanating from Montreal that the body of his son, missing since May 30, had been found.

"Rumors, nothing but rumors," said Mr. Fontaine.

The report today that the body of the six-year-old lad had been found buried under the Fontaine farm home followed similar reports last week, but this report was so strong it was said in Montreal that top Provincial Police officials had left for Eastman to investigate it.

Prior to noon they had not arrived here.

To date diligent search of the mountainous wooded farm country by thousands of woodsmen and volunteers from neighboring towns and villages has turned up no trace of the frail boy, who failed to come home after being sent for the family cows.

The decision ended a two-year series of trials, retrials and appeals for Schacht, who served under Hitler as Minister of Economics and Reichsbank president.

Schacht now is living at Bleckede, near Lueneburg. He is writing his memoirs. He was originally freed by the International Military Tribunal at Nuernberg in 1946, but a German denazification court in May, 1947, sentenced him to eight years.

Husband Of Woman Named In F.B.I. Report Asks Apology

WASHINGTON (AP)—Angry denials—one coupled with a doubled demand for an apology from J. Edgar Hoover—boiled today in the wake of publication of secret reports from F.B.I. files.

Thirty such reports, all relating to internal security matters and to suspected espionage agents, have been introduced in the evidence in Judith Coplon's trial on espionage charges. The reports quote "informants" identified only by code numbers.

The repeated demand for an apology from Dr. Edward U. Condon, director of the Federal Bureau of Standards, whose wife was mentioned in one of the reports. She was said by an informant to have arranged a "contract" between a business man and a suspected Russian agent.

"Who attacks my wife must take me on," Condon said in a first statement. "Mr. J. Edgar Hoover owes her a personal apology. . . ."

Hoover, director of the F.B.I., maintained silence.

Condon charged that under F.B.I. procedures "gossip, rumor, and hearsay are gathered from witnesses of unknown integrity or veracity-witnesses who, moreover, are never asked to face those whom they slander and whose very identities are kept secret."

If the F.B.I. is after facts, Condon suggested it should question him and his wife. "This they have not done."

Coldwell Speaks Here Tonight

M. J. COLDWELL

The third national party leader to visit Victoria in the past two weeks, M. J. Coldwell, will arrive here by plane late this afternoon to address a C.C.F. provincial-federal election rally at 8 tonight in Club Sirocco.

Mr. Coldwell will speak in support of the six Greater Victoria C.C.F. provincial candidates and the C.C.F. Victoria federal candidate, William Caird.

He is scheduled to leave Victoria tonight.

Sixty years of age, Mr. Coldwell, a teacher by profession, entered the federal political arena after serving on the Regina city council, in 1925, as a progressive candidate, only to be defeated. He again tried unsuccessfully on the C.C.F. ticket in 1934, but the following year he was elected. He has been a member of the House of Commons ever since.

Mr. Coldwell has been C.C.F. leader in the House of Commons since 1940, and both national president and parliamentary leader since 1942. He has served as a delegate to several international conferences, including the United Nations Conference in London in 1944, and in San Francisco in 1945.

He is the author of "Left Turn Canada."

ERSATZ 'EATS'

I DON'T KNOW what it is about scientists that makes them such gloomy prophets these days. Every time we hear of a new discovery in the scientific world—except in the case of medical science—something or other seems threatened with destruction.

Take the case of the distinguished chemist of Harvard University. In one of his public speeches a week or so ago, he came along with a theory that in the new order he envisages there will be precious little in the way of "short orders."

He told his audience that the time is not far off when the animals whose flesh we eat will disappear from the face of the earth. Judging by the present scarcity of lamb and mutton in the butchers' shops when I go in to do my shopping, I am beginning to think that day has just about come, as far as sheep are concerned.

EAT TOO MUCH

BUT THE HARVARD professor was looking ahead for a few years, beyond the present temporary situation created by the lateness of the lambing season, or the reluctance of the local lambs to grow up to the lamb-stew, leg-of-lamb and loin-chop stage—or whatever factor it is that leaves my home-grown mint pining and partnerless.

The scientist says that the animals that the world is raising for food eat too much food themselves, and that the world's expanding population will require all the food they, in turn, can raise for themselves.

As a result, he predicts that the dismal day is coming when the old familiar family joint and the old familiar short orders—like steaks, chops, bacon and eggs—will be no more.

SAD SUBSTITUTES

IT'S ALL a matter of geochemistry, it seems. According to him, in the near Tomorrow there will be 15,000,000,000 people in the world living on ersatz foods, processed from trees.

Instead of taking out "hot dogs" and ice cream on family picnics, instead of sitting down to a pot roast or lamb stew, in the Tomorrow of that Harvard scientist we shall be trying to placate our palates and satisfy our hunger with synthetic substitutes.

It sounds incredibly dreary. It would take the ingenuity of the most modern Mrs. Beeton to make sawdust sandwiches succulent. It may be, of course, that ersatz products of Tomorrow's trees will be served up to us in pills, and instead of taking one with water, after meals, we shall have to take one, with or without water, and think we've had a meal.

DESPERATE MEASURES

AFTER THAT scientist's gloomy prognostication about future foods, I am beginning to understand the why and wherefore of another intriguing item about food.

It was to the effect that the Scots have started exporting canned haggis from the Highlands to this part of the world. The first shipment from Glasgow sailed in May, carrying a sample exhibit to the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto.

Of course, in the past haggis has often been imported from Scotland for Burns dinners and such-like Scottish celebrations, and has even been flown over by air.

DOUR, DARK DEED

APROPOS of that, I well recall one dour, dark deed of Sassenach skulduggery when the precious cargo, after being borne on wings all the way frae auld Scotia, got itself mislaid at an eastern airport.

And the resultant disappointment of the diners at the Burns dinner almost precipitated another international incident—between the neo-Scots and the neo-Sassenachs of this country.

With memories of that, I am wondering if the decision to can the "Chieftain o' the pudden clan" isn't another demonstration of Scottish canniness? For in the light of that Harvard professor's prediction, the day is not far distant when there will be no sheep to produce the heart, lungs and liver which go into that mysterious mess called haggis. And that would not only be bad for Bur-r-r-n's dinners but for business bawbees, too.

Cerdan-LaMotta Fight Will Pull In $30,000 Gate

DETROIT (AP) — Confident Marcel Cerdan tapered off training today for defence of his world's middleweight title against Jake La-Motta in Briggs Stadium Wednesday night.

Indications were that a crowd of 30,000 would pay a gross gate of about $300,000 to see Cerdan's first defence of the crown he won from Tony Zale on a 12th round knockout last Sept. 21.

Cerdan rated about a 9 to 5 favorite in pre-fight betting, but a lot of LaMotta money was reported showing up and some observers said Cerdan would be about a 7 to 5 shot at fight time.

LaMotta followers figured that the 15-round distance on a hot night would be a help to Jake who is six years younger than the 32-year-old French champion.

It marks the first title shot for LaMotta, the burly Bronx, N.Y., battler who has been around pro rings for nine years.

Under a ruling by the International Boxing Club, parent of the Olympia Stadium Corporation—the official promoters of the fight—there will be no radio, television, newsreel or movies of the fight.

Jose Ferrer Quits Stage; Starts Second Movie In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hollywood is ready for Jose Ferrer, and he assures "I'm certainly ready for it."

The actor closed his Broadway hit, "The Silver Whistle," a fortnight ago and now is doing his second film, "Whirlpool." (His first, "Joan of Arc," won him an Academy nomination.)

He has hired a press agent and is seeking a movie career in earnest.

"I didn't try it before because I knew I could get lost in Hollywood with this puss of mine," he told me. "So I waited until I had proved I could do anything on the stage." He did this by playing everything from Iago to Charley's Aunt.

(Victorians became acquainted with Ferrer's stage work a few years ago when he appeared as Iago with the Paul Robeson company which was touring in "Othello" and played at the Royal Theatre.)

BIG NAMES

Maureen O'Hara will surprise a lot of people with her singing and dancing in "Bagdad." The gal has a nice set of pipes.

Gregory Peck decided to nix "Glass Menagerie." He figures the picture will be strictly a field day for the two femme leads with the male caught in the middle. Peck is anxious to do "Capt. Horatio Hornblower," which the studio owns.

John Derek has been mentioned for the role of Rudolph Valentino, but he has no desire to do it. "How can you play a god?" he asks.

Betty Hutton's "Red Hot and Blue" is being rushed to release. She has been absent from the screens for more than two years, except for "Dream Girl," which all would like to forget.

CAPSULE REVIEW

"Neptune's Daughter" (M.G.M.) should release everyone but those who demand a plot with their musicals. The performers are Red Skelton, Esther Williams, Ricardo Montalban and Betty Garpet. Best bits: Skelton's slapstick and "Baby, It's Cold Outside" number.

DON'T TAKE FINESSSE TO WIN CONTRACT

Alfred Drake, who is now singing the lead in "Kiss Me Kate" in New York, is one of a singing and cardplaying family, and I think he likes to play cards as much as he likes to sing.

Shortly after finishing at Brooklyn College, he happened to be passing the Adelphi Theatre one day, and saw a sign on the door, "Singers Wanted." He walked in and got a job in the chorus. He understudied the leads in four Gilbert and Sullivan operas, but, as he says, he was only kibitzing. He won fame in "Oklahoma" and is riding high on Broadway today, but he still finds time for a game of poker and a hand at bridge. I liked the way he played today's hand.

South won the opening lead with the king of diamonds and cashed the ace, then led back the third diamond which Alfred won with the queen (West). Some players now would have made the mistake of leading the seven of clubs, and when the finesse failed, they would lose a club, two diamonds and a spade.

Alfred decided to pick up the trumps and try for the spade break. If this failed, he still could take the club finesse. When the spade suit broke, he was able to discard a club on dummy's long spade, thus making his contract.

Tony Galento Picks Walcott As Winner

MOMENCE, Ill. (AP)—Two-ton Tony Galento, who has been punched by experts, predicted today that Jersey Joe Walcott will flatten Ezzard Charles for the heavyweight title when they meet in Chicago June 22.

Tony watched both aspirants to Joe Louis' vacated title work out today and opined: "I pick Walcott to win by a knockout. Charles is fast but give me a puncher every time. I'm certain Walcott can knock him out with the right hand he floored Louis with, or with that corking left hook I saw him use today."

Your Eyes are Gateways to Success

Disappointments and failures can and do multiply fast when eyesight is neglected, abused, allowed to "run down."

Earning and learning power are at stake. Eyes that do not see easily, clearly, surely, cannot keep pace with mind and hand in office and shop. And in school.

At every turn, impaired vision narrows the gateway to opportunity and success.

Berliners May See Trains Moving Again By Wednesday

BERLIN (UP)—Transport and economics experts of the four occupation powers failed to reach agreement today on the lifting of the Berlin "little blockade." They tossed the problem back to the Foreign Ministers in Paris.

The Foreign Ministers had given the experts until midnight tonight to solve the rail, road and water transport problem.

Unable to reach agreement after three days of almost continuous sessions, the French, British, Russian and U.S. representatives gave up after a six-hour meeting today and dispatched individual reports to their Foreign Ministers.

Lawrence Wilkinson, chief American delegate, said: "We finished without success or failure."

But a French delegate said there was no hope of further discussions being held here.

But some relief was in sight. Signs pointed to a vote by striking railroad workers tomorrow to accept a four-power compromise plan and end their prolonged rail tie-up. This would allow trains to roll by Wednesday morning.

Pro-Italians Lead In Trieste Voting

TRIESTE (AP)—Christian Democrats, who demand Trieste's return to Italy, grabbed a lead today in first meagre, unofficial returns from Sunday's municipal election.

The Astra agency's compilation of 2,019 of an estimated 167,500 votes cast, showed that Christian Democrats polled 912 votes.

Astra, an Italian news service, said 1,414 of the 2,019 votes counted were cast for pro-Italian, anti-Communist candidates.

The pro-Tito "Italo-Slavo Popular Front" got only 43 votes.

Anti-Tito Communists, who follow the Cominform line, polled 342.

A 60-member Trieste city council was being elected, the first in 27 years. It will adminster local affairs under allied military government general supervision.

Girl At Shawnigan Dives To Save Unconscious Youth

A tragedy was averted at Shawnigan Lake Sunday when Frank Greeley, 1150 Mason Street, reported to be in his early 20's, was dragged unconscious from the lake and revived by artificial respiration.

Const. Robert Ross of the B.C. Police at Shawnigan Lake, says Greeley was swimming off the public beach at the north end of the lake with a friend, Kenneth Dawe, 1177 Roslyn Road, when he sank.

Dawe tried to aid Greeley, but became exhausted and barely managed to reach the raft himself.

Beverly Ross, 18-year-old daughter of Const. Ross and a member of the Y.M.C.A. Aquanymphs swimming team in the city, saw from the beach the man was in difficulties and swam out to the scene.

She dived down in about eight feet of water and managed to bring Greeley to the surface where L. McMullen and J. Flanagan, believed to be from Victoria, brought the unconscious man to shore in a boat.

Mr. McMullen applied artificial respiration and succeeded in bringing Greeley back to consciousness.

Two Persons Drowned

VANCOUVER (CP) — Drownings claimed at least two lives during the week-end, Vancouver police reported today.

The dead: E. Palmer of North Vancouver and Mrs. Violet Hay of Alberni.

Palmer, 77, is believed to have suffered a heart attack while swimming in Burrard Inlet near Ambleside.

The body of Mrs. Hay, in Vancouver for a throat operation, was discovered early today. She had been reported missing Sunday night.

Builder Says Contract Awarded On Mistake

It is all or nothing at all for one Victoria builder awarded a contract by the city last week to install a heating plant at the Aged Men's Home on Cadboro Bay Road.

G. H. Wheaton told the city today that the awarding of the contract to him was through a misunderstanding.

He said he submitted a tender on construction of an addition to the Aged Men's Home and quoted a price additional to the tender which represented the value of the heating plant should it be required.

Quotation on the heating plant was incidental to the tender on the building and could not be regarded as a separate tender, Mr. Wheaton said.

City Council's Aged Men's Home committee awarded separate contracts to Mr. Wheaton and another contractor for the two jobs, the addition of a sick bay and the installation of a heating plant.

More Than 800 Candidates Nominated For Commons

By the Canadian Press

This was official nomination day for Canada's June 27 general election.

Starting at the Atlantic, nominations were closing at 3 p.m., local daylight time, in 254 of the country's 260 constituencies—six remote ridings closed nominations May 30. Candidates were required to have their official papers and deposits of $200 each in the hands of returning officers by then.

Up to Sunday night, compilation by the Canadian Press showed 801 candidates had been announced.

These were 258 Liberals, 247 Progressive Conservatives, 171 C.C.F., 51 Union of Electors, 24 Social Credit, 19 Labor-Progressive, 17 Independents and 14 representing minor groups.

There are 262 Commons seats at stake. Two of the 260 constituencies—Halifax and Queens, in Prince Edward Island—elect two members each, bringing the seat total to 262.

The number of seats open for election in the 1945 general election was 245. The total was increased by 17 through the addition of seven for Newfoundland and 10 for new ridings created since 1945.

The total of candidates officially nominated in 1945 was 954, the largest field in Canadian political history.

At dissolution April 30, the standings of parties in the Commons was: Liberals, 125; Progressive Conservatives, 69; C.C.F., 32; Social Credit, 12; others, six; vacancies, one.

DEPOSIT RULE

On official nomination day each nominee must make a $200 deposit, which is returned to him if he polls one-half of the vote total of the winnig candidate election day. Otherwise, the money goes to the crown.

The CP's compilation of candidates announced show Ontario, with 83 seats, with the biggest candidate total—259. For Quebec's 73 seats, the list show 218 candidates.

In the west, 50 candidates are in the running for Manitoba's 16 seats, 65 for Saskatchewan's 20 seats, 65 for Alberta's 17 and 53 for British Columbia's 16 seats. Three candidates have been announced for the one seat in the far-northern riding of Yukon-Mackenzie.

The line-up of candidates up to Sunday night follows (bracketed number after each province indicates number of seats in House):

Candidate Says Business Backing Coalition Campaign

The whole purpose of the C.C.F. is to provide a better life for the ordinary people, Harry Webber, C.C.F. candidate in Esquimalt, said Saturday night in addressing a meeting of Songhee Indians.

"The C.C.F.," he declared, "is not a group of individuals out to get something for themselves."

The speaker criticized the Coalition's election campaign, which, he claimed, is supported by big business.

Mrs. Patricia Luchinsky, C.C.F. candidate in Oak Bay, outlined to the meeting efforts of the C.C.F. to help native Indians.

She assured those present that should the C.C.F. take power, discrimination in awarding old age pensions would be abolished. At present, she observed, white persons get $50 a month pensions while Indians get only $8.

Mrs. A. P. Rayment, C.C.F. candidate in Victoria, dealt with Indian housing. Describing an Indian reserve at Sooke, she said: "I found the homes not fit to house dogs or any animals, and yet they are housing human beings."

"It is not because we haven't enough lumber and material to provide good homes," she said, "but because they don't belong to us."

Austin Albany was chairman.

Independent Withdraws

Withdrawal from the provincial election race of Walter U. Hornsby, Independent candidate in the Kamloops riding, was announced today. This leaves a straight battle between Sydney Smith of the Coalition, and Charles A. Thomas, C.C.F.

Decision On Arena Ceiling; Theatre Group Encouraged

City Council's arena committee has decided to use powder-fired bolts to fix fibre-rock sheets to the ceiling of the Memorial Arena, and tenders for the job probably will be called Wednesday.

This was announced this afternoon by Acting Mayor Ed Williams, chairman of the committee, following a meeting with representatives of the Victoria Theatre Foundation, which hopes to use the arena starting July 25 for its Starlight Theatre shows.

The delegation from the Theatre Foundation had the support of service clubs, Chamber of Commerce and Publicity Bureau in a brief presented to the arena committee.

Read by Logan Mayhew, vice-president of the foundation, the brief called for immediate commencement of work on the ceiling, that at least two and possibly three shifts be worked and that a fixed time be allowed to complete the work.

"And this," the brief read, "should not exceed 10 days on a two-shift basis."

MORE OPTIMISTIC

After the meeting, held in camera, Warren Martin, of the foundation, said he felt more optimistic that the Starlight Theatre presentations would be given at the rink on the dates asked for several months ago—July 25 to 30 and Aug. 15 to 20.

Included in the delegation from the foundation were Hubert Wallace, president; Miss Sara Spencer and George Randall.

In his announcement of a decision on the method to be uesd to fix the ceiling sheets, Acting Mayor Williams said Charles T. Hamilton, the city's consulting engineer on the job, would be in Victoria Wednesday.

Mr. Hamilton was preparing specifications for the ceiling work which would be presented to the arena committee at a meeting scheduled for 10.30 Wednesday morning.

At the same time Acting Mayor Williams said he will interview personally contractors at work on the arena in an effort to speed completion.

"I am going to ask them to put on extra shifts if possible," he said.

"We will do everything humanly possible to make the arena available for the Theatre Foundation by July 25," the Acting Mayor added.

He and members of the arena committee favor allowing the foundation to stage its shows at the rink after the ceiling has been fixed, even though other construction might not be finished.

This question will be discussed at a City Council meeting next week.

10 DAYS TO GO

The arena committee has 10 days in which to determine whether the foundation will be able to use the arena on the desired dates.

In the brief read by Mr. Mayhew, it was stated that unless something could be done within 10 days, the foundation would have to cancel its 1949 shows.

"In our opinion this means there will be very little likelihood any other group in Victoria will ever try again to develop anything of this nature," the brief said.

It was pointed out that the foundation was asking for nothing but the use of the arena. It had been guaranteed to pay $2,500 for 12 nights' production. If there were sell-out crowds, the payment would be approximately four times this amount.

"While we admit the Theatre Foundation speaks as a group anxious to use the arena in a very short time," the brief stated. "We also feel strongly we speak on behalf of the citizens of the area who are staturated to a point of nausea with the endless delays (in building the arena) we hear and read so much about."

80,000 Latvians Sent Into Slavery, Refugees Allege

HALIFAX (BUP)—More than 80,000 Latvians were sent to Russian slave camps in an eight-day period last month, Ilamars Andrejsons, secretary of the Latvian Relief Association, said in Halifax today.

Andrejsons said his organization had detailed reports to prove his charge.

His fellow-countrymen were taken from their homes at short notice and their deportation enforced by three Soviet armored divisions, he said.

He added the information was garnered from letters smuggled from Latvia to the British Occupation Zone of Germany, and from German prisoners of war, held by Russia, who returned this month from construction work in Riga, the Latvian capital, and other large centres.

Andrejsons quoted one prisoner of war as saying: "In the night came soldiers of the political police . . . They knocked on the doors and told the people to get ready in half an hour to go far away."

Charge In Nfld.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Magistrate Hugh O'Neill today adjourned without decision hearings on four applications for arrest of Premier Joseph Smallwood on charges of alleged threats to voters in campaign speeches late last week.

W. J. Browne, who resigned as district court judge to contest the federal riding of St. John's West, asked for the warrants of arrest on behalf of four citizens in the south coast region of Ferryland.

Mr. Smallwood sai din a statement that "there are people who are ver yjealous of the cordial reception given me in the district."

THE ISSUE IS CLEAR

OUT OF THE WELTER OF WORDS which is a concomitant of every election campaign, one or two issues emerge with startling clarity as polling day in British Columbia approaches:

In the first place, the voters of this province are confronted with two main proposals upon the determination of which will depend, to a very large extent, the form and substance of government in this highly-favored section of the Dominion of Canada for the next four or five years.

One of these proposals is that the electors in all the 48 ridings endorse and support at the polls those candidates who have pledged themselves, without equivocation or mental reservation of any kind, to further in every way possible the Coalition system of provincial administration. This is the proposal which bespeaks political and economic stability—the preservation of that way of life which has contributed so much to human progress in this part of the world. Implicit in its significance, moreover, are those basic freedoms with which all democratic people are thoroughly familiar.

The other proposal is that our people permit the Winches and the Gargraves to lead them up the "garden path" into the Socialistic house of dreams to sample the C.C.F. brand of political philosophy. But we suggest—to drop the metaphor—that our adult population is in no mood at this stage to consider seriously the appeals of a party which has set its heart and mind on the destruction of free enterprise and the enthronement in this province of an administrative plan differing little from that which holds sway in those countries where governments are the masters, not the servants, of the electors.

In the second place, some consideration should be given by the voters to the cases of those candidates who, justifiably or unjustifiably, have chosen to break with their branch of the Coalition and are appealing for support as independents. None questions their sincerity; but their role on Wednesday is that of vote splitting—that is to say, they are actually helping the C.C.F. What purpose, then, are they serving beyond the self-advertisement of their peeves?

Another set of candidates trying to attract the attention of the electorate is that sailing under the banner of the Union of Electors. This fancy name for Social Crediters is of eastern Canadian origin. Those appealing for votes under its aegis, of course, are the offspring of the original Aberhartian hot-gospellers for $25 a month to everybody.

Though we doubt whether any of these aspirants for parliamentary honors understand, or could explain, the original theory as expounded by Major Douglas, their inherent right to mix their own concept of personal service with a vague abstraction will be challenged by none. The fact that one former Liberal and one former Conservative have apparently seen the Aberhartian light is beside the question. They, too, belong to the vote splitters.

As we have said in these columns before, then, the fight on Wednesday is preponderantly one between a combination of provincial Liberals and provincial Progressive Conservatives, working as a Coalition, on the one hand, and members of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, led by anti-free enterprisers such as father and son Winch, on the other.

The final question, therefore, is: Do the people of British Columbia desire to place the conduct of their affairs in the hands of the neo-Communists, or do they prefer to retain an administration which stands for free enterprise and the full liberty of the subject?

We are fully convinced our people, if they get out and vote, will give the Johnson-Anscomb Coalition a resounding majority, not only in their own personal interests, but also in the interests of the future political and economic stability of this province of British Columbia.

TWO HUNDRED YEARS

OUR PACIFIC COAST COMMUNITY IS a very recent settlement when seen in the perspective of history. Our roots go back little more than a century. Fir seedlings which started growing before the white man came are still alive today as comparatively young trees. This "last frontier" section of the earth is still largely that—historically speaking, we have only just arrived. It is often forgotten, therefore, that there are parts of Canada which can point to a birthday a century or two ahead of ours—places which had already been settled communities one hundred years or more before our site was even located.

The point is given concrete effect by the news that St. Paul's Church in Halifax will celebrate its 200th anniversary on June 21. The building represents the first Cathedral o. the Anglican church to be erected in the British Empire outside of Great Britain. It also marks the scene of the first confirmation and the first ordination to be held by the Church in Canada, and it provided the first garrison chapel of the British Army in what was later to become the senior Dominion. A burial was the first ceremony to be entered on the records; it took place on the day of the founding of the city and the church. A baptism followed a few days later and a marriage the next month. Such a historic building should be of interest to Canadians everywhere, representing as it does an important foundation stone in the structure of civilization that succeeding generations have erected. There will be general congratulations for the Halifax congregation on their day of celebration.

TRIBUTE TO B.C.

TRIBUTE TO THE BRITISH COLUMBIA Coalition government's action in giving further citizenship rights to native Indians is contained in a recent editorial in the Toronto Daily Star, which expresses the hope that "B.C.'s example in extending the franchise to Canada's aborigines will soon be followed by the federal and other provincial governments". With that sentiment we are in complete agreement.

For too many years the Indians and other racial minorities have been placed in a position which can only have caused resentment and must have fostered an inferiority complex among many people in a country which prides itself on its fairness and its desire to extend equality to all. From a practical point of view, moreover, the price of discrimination is too high. A group which is not accorded the privileges of full citizenship can make only a partial contribution to the country. Its abilities, circumscribed by restrictions, become a wasting asset.

Too few Canadians have had the opportunity of understanding the virtues of their own Indians. They have known them only remotely as the Redmen of juvenile wild-west literature, the storied characters of a somewhat stilted school book Canadian history, or the unreal creations of Hollywood moving pictures. That assessment is not good enough. It is time we became better acquainted with our Indians through closer assimilation—and we as Canadians can achieve that by giving them the privileges we claim for ourselves, including the right to vote.

COME TO GRIPS WITH IT

THE COMMENT OF ONE OF THE FORtunate veterans who at long last was able to move his family out of temporary accommodation and into a suitable home last week should be given careful consideration by city and municipal authorities. "I wish," said this man who fought overseas for Canada, "that the people who oppose (Central Mortgage) housing would take a look at the housing situation. Maybe it would be a good thing if they were forced to live in those shacks for a while."

Those persons in Victoria, Saanich and Oak Bay who have been unduly concerned with financial and theoretical considerations, who have leaned over backwards to avoid a very slight imposition on veterans already well housed through their own efforts, but who neglect the very obvious debt the local community owes to men who were promised the best of everything when they donned the uniform, should, indeed, "take a look at the housing situation."

Few aldermen or councillors would long remain complacent living in such conditions, even if the cure did involve the possibility of a slight financial loss through pegging tax rates on the new housing at their present levels for five years. We are not faced with theoretical fancies or idle imaginings. We are faced with a very real and serious housing problem. Let us not wait 50 years until the ideal, perfect solution turns up. Let us take the best available solution now, and get on with the job.

CANCEROUS GROWTH

ONE OF THE INEXPLICABLE THINGS about life on the North American continent is the complacency with which the people in some sections permit the actions of hooded mobs which kill and injure persons and destroy property. We read in the weekend dispatches that "hooded and robed men" beat and intimidated a lone woman in her home in Birmingham, Ala., on Friday night, and that a large gang of similarly arrayed hoodlums terrorized a cafe owner in a nearby town, leaving him with a warning that he would have to keep negroes "down." Both the victims were white.

The gangster activities of such groups—and the sordid story of the Ku Klux Klan provide many instances—are a blot on the record of any nation. It is not surprising that certain men and women of low moral tone and vicious tendencies can be found to take part in these disgusting performances against white or colored citizens. But the wonder is that the great body of the population does not stamp out the cancerous social growth without delay. Canada itself is not entirely free of similar tendencies—the recent persecution of a religious sect in a Maritimes community was a case in point—but such incidents, when they occur in this country, provoke a public outcry that proves they are foreign to our mode of living. They are not taken cynically or as a matter of course. No community or nation which tolerates such activities can claim complete civic or national health.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH ALSOP from Washington

THE SOVIET DEPRESSION

EVEN ALTHOUGH business is growing worse in the United States, and Britain and the other Marshall plan countries are running into new economic difficulties, there is at least one consolation. The signs suggest that the Soviet sphere of the world is also suffering from economic lumbago, particularly in the satellite area in Europe.

In fact this is believed to have been the cause of a rather acute political crisis in Czechoslovakia, only few weeks ago. And from the Kremlin's viewpoint, this is particularly grave, since Czech industry has been relied upon, in all Soviet economic planning, to contribute heavily toward meeting the industrial deficiencies in the rest of the Soviet sphere.

IN BRIEF, AT THE time of the Communist coup d'etat at Prague, the Czechs had the highest standard of living in Europe; their industrial potential had actually been increased by the German occupiers; and they possessed large foreign exchange reserves, both in cash and credits. Since the Communists took over, however, the living standard has declined sharply. The reserves of foreign exchange have been exhausted. And the lack of cash to pay for goods abroad has produced a severe raw material shortage, which in turn is seriously impeding industrial output.

The problem evidently became a bitter issue between the two wings of the Czech Communist party—the more moderate and experienced group comprising such men as President Gottwald and Foreign Minister Klementis; and the 100 per cent Muscovites like Slansky, the foreign relations "expert" of the party, Geminder, and the hysterial Information Minister Kopecky.

AT ANY RATE, such high feeling arose that the Kremlin's Czech specialist who supervised the Prague coup d'etat, the Deputy Minister of Foreign Affairs, Zorine, had to hurry to Prague to straighten matters out.

According to report, sharp recriminations were exchanged. The Gottwald-Klementis faction is even said to have gone so far as to bewail Stalin's command that Czechoslovakia stay out of the Marshall plan, which was real heresy. It is still disputed whether they were so impractical as to suggest that Czechoslovakia might join the Marshall plan at this late date. At any rate, Zorine had a grim report to make when he got home.

THIS INCIDENT was part of a larger pattern of course. The economic difficulties of the Soviet zone of Germany, the reports of resistance to land collectivization in Poland and Hungary as well as Czechoslovakia, the complaints of poor labor productivity at the recent Congress of the Czech Communist Party, all fit into the pattern in various ways. The truth seems to be that the heavy burden imposed by Soviet re-armament, plus the effects of political isolation, plus the barrier of the American export controls, are taking a heavy toll. It is particularly interesting that U.S. export controls are regarded as the most serious of all these unfavorable factors. The United States is carrying on rather successful economic warfare without knowing it herself.

THESE FACTS, in turn, are being used to explain the surprise that almost all the officials specializing in Russian affairs have been given by the behavior of Andrei Vishinsky at the Paris Council of Foreign Minister's meeting. What was almost universally expected of Vishinsky was a tremendous propaganda offensive centering around German unity and the end of the German occupation. Nothing of the sort has developed, and nothing of the sort is any longer feared.

Accordingly, recent Soviet tactics are now being interrupted by some prognosticators as mainly aimed to prepare for a truce on the economic front of the cold war.

IT IS KNOWN that Mikoyan, the former Soviet Minister of Foreign Trade and economic specialist of the Politburo, thought Molotov was wrong in the first instance to walk out on the Marshall plan and take the satellites with him. Those are steps that cannot be retraced. But the signs suggest that the European satellites, at least, are going to be turned loose from almost all political restraints, and authorized to obtain what they need from the west by any means open to them. Actually, however, this is likely to do little good.

If this interpretation is correct, the same thing is happening on the economic as on the strategic front. Militarily, both the Soviet Union and the west are rearming, and the great question of the future is which side will fall behind in the rearmament race, and how far.

ECONOMICALLY, BOTH are running into severe difficulties, and the big future question mark is which side will experience the worst trouble, and how serious the political effects of this economic trouble will prove to be.

An atmosphere of complacency is growing up, because the Kremlin is not growling its loudest at the moment. But if the two foregoing questions for the future are seriously pondered, it will be seen that the complacency has no present foundation.

Problems Of Multiple Progression

Their Craftsmanship Lives On

BBC London Letter

BIRMINGHAM is the second largest city in Britain and the home of some 1,500 different trades. Birmingham was originally a manor and not a town and so had no irksome industrial restrictions such as were imposed by so many guilds in the Middle Ages.

CRAFTSMEN ENCOURAGED

Craftsmen were free to exhibit and sell their goods there unhindered and this encouraged men of enterprise and ambition to go to Birmingham to set up for themselves. Many of the old established businesses in the city today are composed of shops which nestle under the wing of large modern factories.

A typical Birmingham business was featured in a BBC program called "Master Gunsmith." This took listeners through the workshops of a firm established in 1829, and told them exactly how a sporting gun is made, a protracted and complicated job, with 15 major processes and 33 subsidiary ones.

A man is measured for his gun, which is made to his exact specifications, and his handmade weapon will last his lifetime and, provided he takes good care of it, can be passed on to his son.

Gun making cannot be done in a hurry and every gunsmith is a craftman who takes intense pride in his job. When one slow and careful process after another has been completed the gun will have taken some 12 months to make and will cost the buyer several hundred pounds.

ON THE JOB

Gunsmiths stick to the job and many of the men working for this firm are over 50, and the one who makes the wooden stocks is 83.

Whilst men in modern factories work with micrometers for exact measurements these craftsmen use a little paraffin lamp and cover their work with thick black smoke. The gun parts are then clamped together, any slightly high bit shows bright and is at once smoothed away to ensure a perfect fit.

Listeners heard of the boring of the barrels—by which a nine-pound piece of steel is reduced to one and a half pounds—their straightening and proving, the jointing and the locking of the gun, the making of its "furniture"—to the layman the trigger and its surrounds—the fine chequering on the stock which prevents it slipping in the hand, the engraving of the steelwork, and finally its hardening, when it is immersed in charcoal and other ingredients, baked in an oven and finally plunged in running water, emerging a fine blue in tone.

LABOR OF LOVE

The secret of the efficiency and beauty of these guns is that every process in their making is a labor of love, done by British workmen who have an intense pride in their old and complicated craft.

The Wisdom Of Enthusiasm

By JOSEPH L. RUTLEDGE

THOSE WHO see an ultimate heaven on earth in government determination and official direction must often be puzzled as they check their beliefs against the larger wisdom of experience. This thought was pointed by a story in the Toronto Globe and Mail of a few days ago, telling of the struggles of one John Faster to set himself up in the business of his choice.

DESERVED WELL

John Foster was a veteran of two World Wars and deserved well of his country. Seemingly, he did not ask too much of it. All he wanted was to start a small restaurant in Oakville, Ontario. It was only when reviewed by official eyes that this seemingly reasonable idea became unreasonable.

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board, for instance, knew that he couldn't succeed. Hadn't their experts surveyed the ground and decided that no more restaurants were needed in Oakville? So, of their kindness, and in his own best interest, they refused him permission to operate.

Then "Veteran' Affairs" stepped in. They reasoned, patiently and reasonably, that John Foster had never been in the restaurant business. It needed "know-how" they urged, and John Foster didn't have it. Again, in the kindest of spirits, they held up the veteran's credits and gratuities until he should come up with a practical idea.

HE HAD FOUGHT

But with two wars behind him, John Foster, who perhaps, didn't know much about catering, did know something about fighting. He had fought for freedom, and freedom, to his mind, included the right to make his own mistakes.

So he fought for that too, and he got his veteran friends to fight with him. They made a distressing disturbance.

As is often the case, government agents, who are only distantly responsible to arguments, are very responsive to noise. Under the impact of these noisy protests, both D.V.A. and the Prices Board reversed their decision, washed their hands of the matter and left John Foster to fry in his own restaurant gravy.

That was five years ago. But the records show that he didn't fry.

The experts had overlooked one thing. A man with his heart in his work may succeed in the face of some pretty dark forebodings. John Foster did. Not only did his restaurant succeed, but he made it three times larger, and it still succeeded. In a town more than amply served with restaurants—so the Food Board had proved—John Foster could still average 500 customers a day.

LET THEM TRY

Officialdom may be very wise, but it does not follow that wisdom will die with it. Perhaps it will survive if the John Fosters, who have ideas and enthusiasms, are permitted to put them to work.

Monday Is Regret

New York Times

Sunday in the spring is good. Sunday's air is clear and warm, carrying a gentle invitation from the woods and river, from the path, the walk, the garden. Sunday morning is the time to turn the earth, or to set out upon it, briskly. Sunday morning is the time for the rowboat in the park, with deep, even eddies forming behind the oars. Sunday is the time for the picnic lunch, and the building of a fireplace from stones which do not then seem heavy. Sunday is the time for a 10-mile walk over hills, for fishing, for handball, for baseball in the yard. Sunday coaxes and flatters and suggests that another mile, another half hour, another stone, will do no harm. But Sunday hires the piper, who waits in the wings for Monday. He has his hat in hand and a sneer upon his face and a fiddle with a rheumatic bow. He wants his pay and gets it. Growing old is any Monday morning in the spring. Monday in the spring is regret. Monday in the spring is proof again that if the world does not move forward, time does. Growing old is any Monday morning in the spring.

Faith In Canada

Windsor Star

These are days when many young graduates, diplomas in hand, are stepping out into the world, and finding it a little less receptive than they had hoped. This may be particularly true of Canada, since too little effort is expended here to show our young people the opportunities that await them at home.

For those who may be doubtful or unaware of what their country offers them, Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe's remarks to the engineering graduates of McGill University may be commended.

The Minister of Trade and Commerce admits life has been good to him. Yet he told the McGill graduates he would gladly trade all he has won "for the opportunity that is yours—to start on the road of adventure and service with 1949 scientific equipment."

Mr. Howe came to Canada from the United States as a 22-year-old engineering graduate, and made his way by his own efforts. His remarks indicate that if the same course were reopened to him he would follow it again, and more eagerly than before.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

EDUCATIONAL developments sometimes get lost in the shuffle of world events but one shouldn't overlook the importance of the positive stand taken by 20 of America's outstanding educationists regarding the teaching about Communism in United States schools.

These educationists—who include Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, President of Columbia University, and Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard, have given in effect this verdict:

The principles of Communism should be taught—but not advocated — in United States schools. Communists should be barred from the teaching profession.

These views were contained in a report prepared by an educational commission appointed by the National Education Association and the American Association of School Administrators. The purpose of the commission was to study teaching changes which might be advisable in view of political tensions.

TRUMAN QUESTIONED

When President Truman was questioned about this report at his Washington press conference he said he figured the educationists know their field the best. However, he did say he thinks that young minds should not be taught by people who advocate the overthrow of the government of the United States.

The point is, of course, that a teacher can impart information objectively about Communism, or any other ism, without advocating it.

The report states the case like this:

"Young citizens should have an opportunity to learn about the principles and practices of totalitarianism, including those represented by the Soviet Union and by the Communist party in the United States. The study should be accurate and objective, and should make use of basic official documents. Teaching about Communism or any other form of dictatorship does not mean advocacy of these doctrines. Such advocacy should not be permitted in American schools."

This doesn't mean that one has to rush willy-nilly into the teaching of ideologies. The consensus of educationists seems to be that it must be carried out methodically and under supervision. No teacher who isn't thoroughly familiar with the subject should he permitted to try to explain it. The greatest danger lies in ignorance.

WHAT'S THE USE?

Dr. A. J. Marshall in the B.B.C. London Letter

"And if anybody ever asks you what 'use' is a particular piece of information which has been discovered for discovery's sake, remember the reply of Faraday to a lady who asked him what was the use of electromagnetism: 'Madam,' said Faraday, 'what is the use of a new-born baby?' "

TOO FAR OUT

Montreal Gazette

Outdoor sports have long been recognized for their value from a standpoint of health, in cultivating a sound code of conduct in life generally, and in broadening the outlook of the participants. But it now develops, from a disturbingly unforseen episode in the course of a baseball game at Plymouth, Mass., that sports can be carried just a little too far outdoors and can provide an outlook which may be regarded (under the circumstances) as somewhat too broadening.

In the course of a softball game on the recreation field of the Plymouth jail, one of the sports-loving prisoners hit a home run which sent the ball over the wall of the jail yard. One of the guards, with demonstrably undue confidence in the code of conduct of the players or perhaps just absent-mindedly, opened a gate to go out and retrieve the ball. Four inmates promptly scuttled out the open gate and took to their heels.

With the bases loaded, an out-of-the-park hit can often send four men home—but not in the sense in which the four Plymouth prisoners applied it.

Twenty Youths In Winnipeg Charged With Series Of Thefts

WINNIPEG (CP)—A round-up of suspects after investigation of a wave of break-ins and thefts in west-end Winnipeg raised to 20 the number of juveniles in custody at the week-end.

City police said the boys, members of two gangs, are believed to have been responsible for a large number of shop and house break-ins and thefts from parked cars along downtown Portage, Broadway, Ellice and Sargent Avenues.

All those arrested are between 12 and 16 years of age, and all came from homes in the same general area.

One official said statements made by some of the boys indicated intense rivalry between the gangs which had on one occasion caused "hijacking" of one gang's loot by the other.

"The statements read like a fairy tale," the police officer said.

One report mentioned a gun used in the "hijacking," which was carried out at Omand's Creek, near Wolseley Avenue. The statement said one gang had arranged for the sale of same of its loot, hidden near the creek, to the other gang.

It alleged that while arrangements were being completed, a boy stepped from the bushes with a gun and made the others hand over the stolen goods.

Aluminum Workers Strike At Kingston

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP)—Picket lines were thrown across entrances to the Aluminum Company of Canada plant here Sunday night in response to a strike call.

Don R. Montgomery, organizer for the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.), said 1,100 workers are affected by a strike vote taken to enforce demands for a wage increase of 15 cents an hour.

Basic starting wage at the plant is 80 cents an hour. The company offered to raise the basic wage to 90 cents, but proposed to eliminate a spread of five cents an hour between wages of starting employees and of those who have worked six weeks.

Other union demands include the dues checkoff system, eight statutory holidays with pay instead of four, and a shift bonus of 7½ cents an hour instead of five cents.

Howe Scores Some Of P.C. Candidates

COLLINGWOOD, Ont. (CP)—Trade Minister Howe charged in a political address here Saturday night that some of the Progressive Conservative candidates in Quebec "are the type that we put in internment camps in the war years."

He said George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, "is hungry for blood and has resorted to every device he can."

Of Mr. Drew's charges concerning the sale of Montreal's Canadair aircraft plant, Mr. Howe said "Mr. Drew chose his time and place in my own constitucency, to launch his charges. I can do the same—and it might be in the Carleton riding."

(Mr. Drek made the charges at Fort William, in Mr. Howe's home riding at Port Arthur. Mr. Drew's riding is Carleton, in the Ottawa district.).

Thousands Attend Reopening Of The Nut House

Thousands of Victoria and district residents visited the Nut House during its reopening day, last Saturday. After a major job of enlargening and renovation, the Nut House reopened with a complete selection of the famous "Debrett" Chocolates . . . hand rolled and prepared in British Columbia's famous chocolate house. "Debretts" have been British Columbia's favorite for many years.

The same popular line of nuts and popcorn will be available in the new store, and the larger store will make it possible to serve clients quicker, thus avoiding the line-ups for delicious nuts so prevalent in the past.

Much wider than formerly, the store is spic and span throughout, and for cleanliness cannot be surpassed anywhere in the city.

The space formerly occupied by the beauty parlor will be used for storage, ovens and offices, making the Nut House the largest store of its kind in Victoria.

Fifty prizes will be given away Saturday, June 18, including a mantel radio, twin set lamps, boxes of chocolates and 45 other attractive gifts. The public is invited to call in at the store and place their name in a box. It is not necessary to buy anything. Miss Lorraine Miller will manage the store, and all of the girls will give you your purchase free if they fail to smile. ***

Only Three Passages For Travelers In Adriatic-Baltic East-West Line

By SYDNEY BROOKES

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (Reuter)—Four years after the war, guns cover some 800 miles of the frontier between east and west, from the Adriatic to the Baltic.

Through the long barrier, built by the wartime Allies, there are only three passages.

One, from Helmstedt to Berlin, has been reopened, although some think only tentatively, by the Russians. Another, itself the scene of a "little blockade," leads from Bavaria into Czechoslovakia. The third, hampered by many restrictions, goes through occupied Vienna towards the closely-watched borders of Hungary and Slovakia.

Restricted trade follows other routes. But only these three gaps exist for the passage of people attempting to go about their normal business in an abnormal Europe.

CLASH OF IDEAS

A tour revealed that it is marked not only by arms kept at the ready, but also by a clash of ideas, hatreds, jealousies and prejudices.

In the south, Marshal Tito's Yugoslavs look with equal suspicion on people from both the east and west.

Russian troops, well trained and maintained and apparently indoctrinated in contempt for the "western imperialist warmongers," form an armed barrier across Austria from Hungary to the Czech border.

Czech sentries, armed, accompanied by police dogs and supported by aircraft, cover the only area not directly controlled by Russia between the Baltic and Yugoslavia.

From Bavaria to the Baltic, enclosing Berlin and the northern approaches to Bohemia and Poland, the Russian line of guns and rifles continues northward.

Part of the tour was made before the lifting of the Berlin blockade May 12. The second half, made in some expectation of a lessening of hostility, brought the discovery that all was as it had been. The guns were still pointed east and west.

The barrels of tommyguns shone through the rainy darkness of the night of May 12 as Russian guards turned this correspondent back from the Berlin autobahn at Hof, on the Border of Saxony. The Berlin blockade was lifted—but only at the single crossing point from the British zone of Germany at Helmstedt.

Everywhere else, empty roads ran east into a no-man's-land and stopped at sentry posts manned by border patrols.

Not Yet Christian Nation, Says Coldwell

VANCOUVER (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, national leader of the C.C.F., said here Sunday night Canada can not be called a Christian nation until all vestiges of racial, religious and economic discrimination have been wiped out.

Mr. Coldwell was addressing the weekly Sunday forum at St. John's United Church.

He said: "If we would call ourselves Christians, we must do everything possible to eliminate anything savoring of discrimination."

He urged the church to take a more active interest in politics, but not to the extent of combating communism.

In uniting with anti-Communist elements, Mr. Coldwell said, the church would eventually undergo destruction.

Pearson Appeals To Electors To Vote

NANAIMO—"Vote as you see fit, but by all means vote."

This was the appeal to electors of Nanaimo-The Islands constituency made Saturday night by Provincial Secretary and Health and Welfare Minister George S. Pearson.

"All persons should consider it a positive obligation to cast a ballot," he said. "Any man or woman eligible to vote and able to vote, but who does not vote, has no right to protest the actions of the representative for the district nor has he any right to protest the form of government elected or the actions of the government."

Mr. Pearson said he was appealing for support on his past record and the record of the Coalition government during the last eight years.

"One thing is sometimes overlooked," he said. "In judging the value of a government, one should examine the way it administers the law. There may be splendid laws upon the statutes of a country, but it is the way those laws are enforced which gives a country good or bad government."

800 Boy Scouts Met At Brandon

BRANDON, Man. (CP)—Eight hundred United States and Canadian Boy Scouts broke camp and started home today after holding their three-day international Boy Scout camporee here.

A half-mile long torch parade weaving through the main streets of Brandon provided a colorful climax Sunday night. Torches for the parade were fashioned by the 650 American Scouts from bordering states. They were presented to the Canadian Scouts as mementoes of the occasion.

A highlight of the camporee came Saturday night when Jack Dempsey, former world heavyweight boxing champion, visited the camp site and went from tent to tent and talked with the boys.

At the court of honor, 361 U.S. Scouts received awards ranging from the tenderfoot badge to the life Scout badge. Canadian awards included one district commissioner's warrant, 13 training certificates to Scouts and Cubmaster, two King Scout badges and four other scouting awards.

St. Laurent Back In Fight As Federal Election Campaign In Last Two Weeks

By CANADIAN PRESS STAFF WRITER

The campaign for Canada's political battle of the year—the June 27 general election—today moved into its final two-week stretch.

Across the country, candidates for the 62 Commons seats at stake in the voting filed their official nomination papers this afternoon and made their deposits of $200 each.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, put to the sidelines last week by an attack of laryngitis, back to the hustings, campaigning in sections of Quebec and Ontario.

This morning Mr. St. Laurent who has spent the last five days at his home on Grand Allee, addressed a public meeting at Longueuil, Que., and during the day visited Ville Jacques Cartier, St. Lambert, and Laprairie.

Tuesday, the Prime Minister will speak at Berthierville, Que., in the morning, in Joliette in the afternoon, and at three public meetings in Montreal Tuesday night.

Wednesday, Mr. St. Laurent will go into Ontario.

P.C. LEADER SPEAKS

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, in a Saturday night speech at North Bay, Ont., defended his party's stand on collective security and said there never had been any question that it was behind an Atlantic union.

He termed it a "despicable lie" to say that he ever has opposed family allowances. As Premier of Ontario he had taken the position that social security measures should be administrated by the provinces. That practice now was being followed.

He said that if the federal government had accepted his suggestions in the 1945-46 Dominion-Provincial Conference, there now would be enough hospital space and trained personnel in Canada to meet the needs of a social security program.

PROPOSAL FOR BENEFITS

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, touring British Columbia, told a rally in Vancouver that a C.C.F. government would plug the gaps in the government's unemployment insurance legislation.

"We shall see that out-of-town benefits are available to all who are out of a job through no fault of their own—whether they be sick, permanently unemployed or seasonally unemployed," he said.

He added that the C.C.F. policy which he termed one designed to maintain full employment in Canada, was equally fundamental in its approach. The C.C.F. believed that only under a planned economy could full employment be maintained.

Mr. Coldwell contended that the Liberal government is unprepared for unemployment and has no plan to alleviate such a situation. If the current trend continues, he saidi, there will be 1,00,000 unemployed in Canada within five years.

ST. LAURENT SINCERE

Resources Minister Gibson said at Hamilton that the opposition campaigns were "crumbling because the statements of their leaders are not holding up in the light of truth, justice and good taste." Mr. St. Laurent was demonstrating "integrity, stability and sincerity which has endeared him to Canadians from coast to coast."

At St. Benoit, Que., Welfare Minister Paul Sauve of Quebec's Union Nationale government said the federal campaign was nothing more than a continuation of the fight for provincial autonomy. He spoke in support of Georges Heon, chief Progressive Conservative organizer in Quebec and candidate in the new riding of Argenteuil-Deux Montagnes.

Jobs Of Guards At Dockyard Said Highly Competitive

"A government job with its security is getting to be like a valuable diamond," is the way Carl Fallas of the zone council of the Canadian Legion here, today described what he considered one of the major factors in the current differences between the Canadian Corps of Commissionaires and civil service security guards over who should guard H.M.C. Dockyard at Esquimalt.

"It is a shame that one group of veterans should have to fight another over jobs like that — but the way it appears to me to be shaping up, the security of a government job is making those jobs highly competitive," Mr. Fallas commented.

He added that he had received information that the Department of National Defence has given its assurance that the commissionaires will not permanently replace the present security guard.

A Canadian Legion spokesman said the Department of Veterans' Affairs has been informed by the former organization that it will look with disfavor on any move to replace one group of veterans with another, especially if the replacing group would receive less pay than the other.

Fumes In Well Cause Of Death

THORNHILL, Man. (CP)—A 24-year-old farm worker, J. Ralph McGregor, was asphyxiated Saturday and two other men—father and son—were overcome by gas fumes while trying to rescue the victim from the bottom of a newly-dug, 40-foot well at the Doney farm five miles northwest of here.

George Doney, 65, owner of the farm 13 miles northwest of Morden in south-central Manitoba, and his son, Frank, 28, were overcome by fumes.

James Lumgair, a neighboring farmer, brought the three up from the well. Mr. McGregor failed to revive. Mr. Doney and his son are reported in "fairly good" condition.

It was reported that dynamite was used to blast some rock in the well Friday night. Shortly after Mr. McGregor had gone down to resume digging Saturday, he called for help and was pulled up, but lost consciousness at the mouth of the well and plummeted down 40 feet.

Mr. Doney Sr. then attempted to recover the gas victim, but was himself overcome and trapped. Frank Doney was forced to abandon rescue attempts when he, too, fell victim to the fumes.

Mr. Lumgair finally brought the two trapped men to the surface, and they were shortly revived.

Thieves Get $100 Worth Of Tobacco

Thieves who broke into the grocery store and adjoining shoe repair shop at 810-12 Catherine Street during the week-end stole $100 worth of merchandise and $15.75 in cash, city detectives reported today.

From the grocery store operated by A. L. Haywood, the thieves took $100 worth of cigarettes and tobacco. The money was taken from a counter drawer in the next door shoe repair shop.

Police said entry was gained by forcing the bars from a rear window. The thieves took the precaution of obliterating their footprints under the window with a rake.

First Woman Doctor, Now 85, At Convention

SASKATOON (CP)—Dr. Elizabeth Matheson, first woman to practice medicine in the Northwest Territories, is one of 30 women doctors here this week attending the convention of the Canadian Medical Association.

Now 83 and retired, Dr. Matheson spends her time visiting her seven children, scattered from Texas to Toronto. Last year she received an honorary degree in medicine from the University of Toronto, exactly 50 years after her graduation.

With her husband, a missionary, she operated a small mission hospital at Onion Lake, 200 miles northeast of Saskatoon for 20 years. After his death she became assistant medical supervisor for Winnipeg public schools, a post she held for 23 years before her retirement in 1941.

Dr. Matheson today attended an interdenominational church service honoring the 25th anniversary of the Federation of Medical Women. The service also was attended by delegates to the British Commonwealth Medical Conference and by the executive of the C.M.A.

Grandson Of Late Premier Married In Ottawa Ceremony

The lovely formal summer wedding in St. James United Church, Ottawa, Saturday afternoon, attended by 200 guests, occasioned wide interest, particularly in this city and in Vancouver, where the groom and his family are well known.

Principals were Helen Katherine Mary Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart J. Holmes, Ottawa, and John Robb Tolmie Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Robb Andrews, Vancouver, and grandson of the late Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, Premier of British Columbia and the late Mrs. Tolmie. Mr. Andrews, a forest engineer graduate at University of Toronto, and a member of Kappa Alpha Society, is well known here, having spent much of his early life at "Cloverdale" with his grandfather.

The bride, a graduate of McGill University, was given in marriage by her father, in the ceremony performed by Rev. Robert W. McLauchlin.

Chantilly lace over frost white net with underskirt of creamy satin created her courturier gown. The fitted bodice had full-length sleeves and the high neckline was finished with tiny Peter Pan collar.

A tulle illusion veil held to the head with a narrow satin band, rippled over the full circular train of her bouffant skirt. The bouquet was a cascade of white roses and stephanotis.

In attendance were the bride's sister, Miss Lois Holmes, in orchid tulle, and Miss Judith Rowe, who wore an identical gown in primrose.

Their bouffant skirts were posed over taffeta, the diaphanous tulle billowing into semblance of demi-trains. Tiny shirred bodices were veiled in off-shoulder fichus.

Both maids carried nosegays of yellow roses and violets, and the same color note appeared in their floral bandeau headdresses.

Arthur Walroth was best man. Ushers were Denis Ross, Charles Burrows, and Dr. Grover Lightford.

A reception followed at Lansdowne, Ottawa. Dr. L. B. Nuttall, uncle of the bride, from Prescott, Ont., proposed the toast.

The newlyweds are motoring through the Laurentians on honeymoon, the bride traveling in an original gold gabardine suit, navy hat and accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews will make their home in Ottawa.

The Gordon Ewings On Southern Trip

Saturday afternoon newlyweds, Ruth Marjorie Turner and Gordon Ewing, are off on a honeymoon motor trip to California.

Rev. Moir A. J. Waters read the marriage service in First United Church, at 2.30. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Alma E. Turner, 2206 Sayward Avenue, and the late Charles H. Turner, and the groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Ewing, 2754 Fifth Street.

Capt. G. A. Laird gave his niece in marriage. Her wedding suit was powder blue gabardine, accented with navy blue straw hat trimmed with blush pink roses, navy accessories and mauve orchid en corsage. For the wedding trip she added a matching topcoat and navy handbag to her ensemble.

A light rust-toned gabardine suit, brown accessories, and brown and white straw hat were worn by Miss Muriel Turner, honor maid for her sister. Miss Turner's corsage bouquet was of Talisman roses and Picardy gladioli.

Kenneth Boulter assumed duties of best man, and Arthur Lees and Fred Turner, the bride's brother, were ushers. Mrs. Roberto Wood presided at the organ and played "Because" while the couple signed the register.

A reception followed in the Y.W.C.A. clubroom. There the main table was decorated with sweetpeas in silver vases and centred with a three-tier cake topped with rosebuds.

Toast to the bride was given by Fred Cross, and Miss Marilyn Tucker, cousin of the bride, played piano selections.

Victoria West — The regular meeting of Victoria West P.-T.A. will be held in the school auditorium tonight at 8 p.m. Installation of officers will take place and a short musical program has been arranged. Refreshments will be served.

Newlyweds Return From Island Trip

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Ruth Margaret Stone, daughter of Eric Stone, Kimberley, and Lawrence John Kahler, H.M.C.S. Rockcliffe, Esquimalt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kahler, Swift Current, on May 28, in Bishop's Palace, St. Andrew's Cathedral. Father Johnston officiated.

The couple motor up-island on their honeymoon and are now making their home at 1319 Camosun Street.

For the occasion, the bride chose a powder blue dressmaker suit, with accessories in white, and corsage bouquet of red roses and lily of the valley. She added a cherry red topcoat to her ensemble for traveling.

Miss Anne Alder, as sole attendant, wore a grey pin stripe suit, navy blue accessories, and corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds.

Harvey Moir was best man.

A reception was held at 1319 Camosun Street, where rooms were decorated with bright summer flowers. G. Blackmore proposed the toast. Among guests was Miss E. McKim, aunt of the bride, from Pitt Meadows, B.C.

A surprise party was held at the home of Mrs. L. Thompson, Yates Street, for Miss M. Wilson, who will be married shortly. The table was covered with a crocheted cloth centred with a bowl of roses. Mrs. H. Johnston, Mrs. D. Bowers and Mrs. E. Simpson assisted the hostesses, and Mrs. W. Jordan presented gifts and corsage bouquet to the bride-to-be. Mrs. J. Wilson, mother of the honor guest, also received a corsage bouquet. Guests were Mesdames D. Quaintance, D. Pearce, N. O'Neil, Peden, A. Salway, Morris, E. Baron, E. Cave, C. Edward, Salmon, Irwin, Dobson, A. Gonnason, I. Coltman, Macdonald, V. Wright, Cottingham, M. Miller, P. Blackburn, H. Loat, E. Browning, A. Passmore, M. Taylor, Bainbridge, E. Hamilton, Lamb, Gollob, W. Sands, B. Silsby, Hynes, M. Silver, F. Robertson, A. Greig, Treble, and Misses M. Toni, N. Halko and Johnson.

Pat Smith Dons Bridal Satin For Marriage To John Heggie

Chantilly lace gave added beauty to the traditional white satin bridal gown worn by dark-haired Patricia Rose Smith, when she exchanged vows, Saturday at 8 in St. John's Church, with John Gordon Heggie.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Warren Smith, 872 Cowper Avenue, and son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Heggie, 958 Madison Avenue, repeated their vows before Rev. George Biddle.

Peonies, delphiniums, sweetheart roses, and white tulle marking guest pews formed the decor. Wedding music was played by organist Frederic Chubb.

A circlet of orange blossoms held the embroidered net veil, misting full length, over the wedding dress made with net yoke in off-shoulder effect and outlined with folds of satin on the fitted bodice. Sleeves were in lily point mode, and the satin and lace skirt ended in a slight train. A pearl necklace was her only jewelry, and deep red roses were intermingled with swainsona in her bouquet.

In attendance as honor matron, was the bride's sister, Mrs. F. E. Gray. Her turquoise taffeta gown was outlined with folds of material on the low neckline. The gored skirt was frilled in apron-effect forming a bustle in the back. She wore a bandeau of fresh flowers.

Miss Eva-Lind Hunter, bridesmaid, wore a gown of similar color and material, but with net yoke, scalloped bodice and full skirt.

Niece of the bride, Leslie Anne Gray, was frocked in pale pink dotted Swiss, the frilled neckline and hem edged in lace. Her bandeau was of fresh flowers and she carried a Colonial bouquet.

Claud Heggie, of Prince George was best man for his brother. Ushers were Donald Smith and Daryl Anderson.

Oak Bay Beach Hotel was the scene of the reception. Toast was proposed by Norman L. Maynard. The three-tier cake, topped with sweetheart rosebuds, and encircled in white tulle and rosebuds, was cut by the young couple.

For the motoring trip to Banff, the bride wore a sea foam green gabardine suit, smart with accessories in burnt almond and white topcoat. Yellow roses were in her corsage bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Heggie will live in Quesnel Apartments.

Colorful Bouquets, Gowns Mark Early Summer Wedding

Attractive gowns worn by the quartette in attendance on Miss Pearl Catherine Glenn when she became the bride of William Ernest Edmunds were as bright and gay as the fragrant blossoms in their bouquets.

Rev. J. L. W. McLean officiated at the ceremony held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Saturday at 8.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Glenn, 676 Island Highway, Langford, and her groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. Edmunds, 2871 Heath Drive.

A profusion of full-blown roses created the setting for the bride, whose gown of ice blue satin was enriched with yoke and collar of Chantilly lace. Styled with classic simplicity, the dress featured a full train, and slim sleeves pointed over the wrists.

Red roses and stephanotis were arranged in her cascade bouquet, and as her only jewelry she wore a wrist watch, gift of the groom.

American beauty toned velvet created the gown of honor matron Mrs. G. H. Ham, sister of the bride. Her picture hat and mitts were in matching hues, and her all-white bouquet was of carnations and roses.

Identical gowns of palest of yellow organdy, with picture hats in matching material were worn by senior attendants, Miss Jean Beaton and Mrs. Helen Court. Both carried arm sprays of mauve stocks.

Flower girl was Barbara Ann Glenn, young sister of the bride, whose frock was of white sheer. She wore fresh flowers in her hair and carried yellow marguerites in a dainty basket.

Best man was William D. Robinson, and Bob Glenn, brother of the bride, and Dave McColl, were ushers.

Langford Community Hall was the scene of the reception, where mothers of the couple assisted in receiving guests. Mrs. Glenn chose a light suit of navy moire, and Mrs. Edmunds wore a grey tailored gabardine suit.

Pink, white and mauve streamers decorated the hall, and the three-tier cake, flanked by pink tapers, centred the refreshment table.

Dave Anderson of Vancouver proposed the toast.

The young couple are motoring to Seaside, Oregon, and on return will live at 1001 North Park Street.

Mrs. Edmunds traveled in a powder blue gabardine suit, navy topcoat, and accessories, and red rose corsage bouquet.

Vote Anscomb for Oak Bay.

Oliver Goldsmith Was Poor Student In Two Senses of the Word

One day, we are told, a college student at Trinity College in Dublin received a visit from a friend early in the morning. The student was Oliver Goldsmith and he was among those called "poor students" for two reasons. He had failed to do well in his studies, and he had little money to spend.

The friend found young Goldsmith still in bed. He was, in fact, deep in the bed. He had cut the mattress from end to end, and had snuggled down in the midst of the feathers!

"What is the meaning of this?" asked the visitor.

In reply, Goldsmith said that he had given his blankets away "to a poor woman whose husband was in the hospital." He added that the woman had brought five children with her to Dublin, and had asked him for help the day before. Besides giving the blankets, he had sold some of his clothing so that he could supply money to buy food for the children.

Oliver Goldsmith lived two centuries ago. He was the son of a minister with a large family. It was hard for the father to provide money for the education of his sons.

As a boy, Oliver had gone to several grammar schools. He had been the subject of jokes among the pupils, especially during the times when he was a "new boy" at various schools. He had suffered from smallpox, and the rough skin of his face may have seemed "funny" to his schoolmates.

Another trouble with Oliver was that he failed to do good work at school. There were some who declared that he was a dunce. His good nature won friends for him, however, and he was skillful in sports.

There was in Oliver Goldsmith the making of a great writer, but who would have guessed it? Who would have supposed that this poor student would, in the course of time, become one of the leading authors of his day?

Let us leave him, at this time, in the midst of his feather bed. At least he had a kind heart, and if he gave his blankets to a poor family, it was a sign of his nature.

Messenger Boy Hurt In Accident

Roger Lavendure, 16, of 624 Hillside Avenue, a C.P.R. messenger boy, suffered two fractured knuckles on his left hand and numerous bruises, when the bicycle he was riding was in collision with a car driven by Dr. Ivan C. C. Tchaperoff, 2475 Sinclair Road, at 10 Sunday morning at Douglas Street and Burdett Avenue, city police reported.

Banknotes Burned But Payment Made

LONDON (CP)—An old-age pensioner walked into the Bank of England and handed the clerk a brown paper bag. It was full of ashes.

"This was my life savings," she said. "Four hundred pounds ($1,600) completely destroyed by fire. Can you help me?"

It's an old, old story to the bank. The money had been hidden in the chimney for safety. One day it was forgotten, the fire lit, and the money became smoke and ashes.

The bank is ready for just such an accident. It has a team of experts able to dissect charred fragments of banknotes. There is no charge for the service.

The official took her name, address and the ashes. A few weeks later she received a cheque.

From the charred paper, Bank of England experts found traces of £1 and 10s notes valued at £390. The other £10 could not be identified.

"You'd be surprised what people do with their money," an official said. "We've had banknotes burnt, baked and even boiled. During the war thousands of banknotes were destroyed in air raids. So many, in fact, that we employed a special staff of 50 to examine ashes."

The bank is confident nobody could pull a fast one over it.

"I can't recall anybody trying to defraud us," said another bank employee. "But I shouldn't think they'd have a dog's chance, anyway."

There are heavy penalties for would-be defrauders.

The DOCTOR Says:

Rest Is Key to Convalescence; Minimizes Danger of Relapse

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

When the active symptoms of a disease are over or a patient has had a recent operation, there is a period of recovery of strength and health which we call convalescence.

This is often a discouraging time—particularly when it seems to drag on and on. Yet convalescence from a disease or an operation is an important part of the recovery process and its importance should be recognized.

Rest is the main key to convalescence. Rest in bed is generally required at first; the person who gets up too soon or stays up too long may suffer a relapse which delays the return of perfect health. During convalescence everything, particularly exercise, should be done slowly.

The periods out of bed should be short at first. Gradually they can be extended. The amount of fatigue shown after the periods of being up is a good sign as to whether they have been too long or just right.

SLEEP NECESSARY

In addition to gradually increasing the activity, plenty of sleep and soft but substantial foods are desirable. Most convalescents require frequent small meals rather than a few large ones. Special foods may be needed at this time; just what, of course, depends on the disease or operation experienced and must be individually prescribed.

The use of small frequent feedings of easily digestible food is almost always the same, however, regardless of the type of illness suffered.

Convalescents should relax and realize the fact that they cannot expect recovery to happen all at once. Many people are impatient to get well and tend to take chances too soon. The gradual increase of activity, proper diet and resumption of normal life is the best guarantee that convalescence will progress as rapidly as can reasonably be expected. The return of fully normal vigor may take a long time.

Question: Must a patient watch his diet after the gall bladder is removed?

Answer: For a while after the operation the diet must be carefully controlled. Later on there is some difference between patients, although the majority are able to eat foods more freely than they did before the removal of a diseased gall bladder.

A's Crying Need For Mound Help Evident

With the need of pitching help making itself felt more and more as the W.I.L. campaign moves along Victoria Athletics are off on another road trip that will take them into Yakima and Salem for eight games before they return home in a week's time. A's closed out their series with third-place Salem Saturday with a split. After edging the visitors 8 to 7 in the afternoon the Victoria club dropped a wild 12 to 9 nightcap.

Tonight the Athletics stop off at Mount Vernon for an exhibition game against that town's semi-pro club. Outfielder Al Drew, who has also done a little pitching, will open on the mound for the A's. Manager Ted Norbert may also do a little throwing. It's a cinch none of the regular pitching corps will work as all of them need rest after last week's activities.

Athletics wound up their home stand against Yakima and Salem with a record of four wins against three defeats. In the seven fixtures southpaw Jim Propst was the only hurler to check in with a complete game. The other six engagements saw Norbert work a total of 17 pitchers. Their record was 64 runs, 85 hits, 37 walks and seven wild pitches. Not impressive to say the least. In comparison the Victoria club scored 59 runs on a total of 81 hits.

GOOD RELIEF JOB

Saturday afternoon's game was featured by some smart relief hurling on the part of Pete Vucurevich. Taking over from Larry Ward in the first inning the chunky right-hander choked off a Salem rally at three runs and pitched hitless ball for four and a half innings. Meanwhile, A's picked up five runs in the second after two were out and added a single in the fourth for a 6 to 3 margin. Wayne Peterson's home run added two to the Salem total in the seventh but the A's matched them with a pair of tallies in their half.

Salem struck back in the ninth and after the first two batters had singled Tobey Tobias went in as relief. Tobias had trouble locating the plate and the Senators scored two runs and had the bases loaded before the hard-throwing right hander struck out Bob Cherry to end the game.

Scoring in every inning but the ninth, as the Victoria mound staff just couldn't hold up, Salem walked off with the night game. A seven-run rally by the A's in the sixth was wasted. The scoring spree gave Victoria a 9 to 7 margin but Salem struck back in the seventh for four runs off Frank Logue and added a single in the eighth charged to Tobias.

Bud and Wayne Peterson and Bob Cherry blasted home runs for Salem while Charlie Balassi hit one for Victoria.

Not so long ago, the Spokane Indians were in eighth place in the league. Now they're in third position with a percentage of .519.

The single-minded Spokes brushed aside Bremerton twice yesterday, 2 to 1 and 15 to 1, after losing a 10 to 7, 15-inning decision Saturday night. In yesterday's nightcap bedlam, the Indians registered 16 hits off four Jacktar slabsters, including outfielder Lil Arnerich and catcher Al Ronning. The opener, scheduled for seven frames, went eight. The double win enabled the Spokes to vault over Salem into third.

GRECO PITCHES

There were two new faces on the hill at Tacoma yesterday, too, but they weren't wearing any victory grins either. Dick Greco, the slugging Tiger outfielder, took the mound in the ninth inning of the first game—won by Wenatchee 12 to 8. And he liked the view so well, he came back to relieve another ex-outfielder, manager Bob Johnson, in the fourth canto of the seven-inning afterpiece—won by Wenatchee 1 to 0. The Chiefs scored the only run of the game in the first on three singles to give Johnson his first loss after three wins. Johnson and Greco held the visitors to five hits, but Leroy Stevens starved the home club on four. In the first game, Greco ran his league-leading home run total to 15 with a pair of circuit smashes.

Finnegan, Keeler Leave Athletics

Victoria Athletics got down to the 17-man player limit over the week-end as business manager Reg Patterson announced that outfielder Frank Finnegan and infielder Bob Keeler would be shipped out. The players will be placed elsewhere in the New York Yankees farm system.

Finnegan, a good defensive ball player, had his troubles at the plate, hitting only .249. Keeler, despite his hustle, just didn't fit into the A's infield plans.

Sacramento Seals Argue Over Rights To Dario Lodigiani

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The case of little Lodie is raising quite a hassel in the Pacific Coast Baseball League.

Little Lodi—Dario Lodigiani—was formerly with the Oakland Acorns. They asked waivers on him a few days ago. San Francisco and Sacramento both wanted him.

P.C.L. president Clarence Rowland awarded him to the Seals.

Yesterday the 33-year-old infielder played with San Francisco in both games of a doubleheader against Portland.

Sacramento's unhappy. Portland, too.

Sacramento claims Lodigiani on the basis the Solons were lower in the league standings at the time Oakland put Lodi on the block.

The Seals insist Lodi belongs to them on the ruling that the club lowest in the standings at the "expiration of the waiver date" is entitled to the player.

Portland's business manager, Bill Mulligan, protested the games before they started yesterday. Portland won both. He said Sacramento had prior right to Lodigiani.

Juvenile Lacrosse Workout Tuesday

Juvenile lacrosse players under the age of 14 years are asked to report to Stevenson Memorial Park Tuesday afternoon at 3.30.

Teams will be picked and a league formed from the players attending this workout. It is hoped to have a three or four-team league in this division.

End Of Line For Steeplechase Rider

Jockey Elwood Carter takes a spill over the head of his mount, Obash, in the last jump of two-mile steeplechase at Belmont Park, N.Y. Kingsfield, Terry Mongiello up, keeps going in race won by Lock and Key, with Polichinela second and Cobh third.

14 Birdies Provided Middlecoff's Margin

CHICAGO (AP)—It will be some time before Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn., goes back to yanking teeth.

As the new United States Open golf champion Middlecoff today was the second highest money-winner in the professional circuit with a 1949 take of nearly $12,000.

Middlecoff's open triumph over Medinah's No. 3 "jungle" course Saturday, with a two-over-par 286, settled any indecision on the part of the 28-year-old to swap his drills and extractors for woods and irons.

He let Sammy Snead knock him the coveted Open with a traditionally-treacherous putter.

Snead, still the year's top money-winner with $13,860, could have squelched Middlecoff's Open conquest with a little sensible approaching on the home stretch.

The White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., golfer needed only two closing pars to tie Cary. But Sambo, who was trying to tack the nebulous crown to his Masters' and national P.G.A. sweeps this year, got frisky on the deceptive 17th lake hole.

THREE COSTLY PUTTS

Snead tried his erstwhile reliable goose-necked putter from the stubby 17th fringe. He floated six feet past the hole, and then rimmed his comeback, in and out of the cup. A chip from the fringe might have done it.

That actually determined the championship, forcing Snead to try for a high-pressured birdie on the par four, 395-yard last hole.

Sam couldn't do any better than a par and middlecoff was the new Open champion, succeeding injured Ben Hogan.

That left Snead in a second-place tie with Clayton Heafner, the huge Charlotte, N.C., swinger. Heafner also missed a six-foot putt—this on the closing hole—which would have given him a tie for the title.

In the final analysis, it was Middlecoff's 14 birdies, against 11 by Snead and 12 by Heafner, that settled the issue.

Middlecoff collected $2,000 cash from his Open triumph, but in prestige, as far as commercial ventures are concerned, the payoff was exceedingly greater

Jimmy Turnesa and South African Bobby Locke deadlocked for fourth place with 289.

Top amateur open finisher was Skee Riegel of Tulsa, Okla., who shared 14th place at 294.

Newcastle Scores Victory At Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Newcastle United soccer team continued their unbeaten tour Saturday by defeating an All-Star Winnipeg eleven, 7 to 4, before approximately 6,000 spectators. The game was played at Osborne Stadium, with the temperature hovering around the 94-degree above mark.

The score at the end of the first half was 6 to 3. The next game for Newcastle will be at Toronto Wednesday against Sweden.

Outstanding for Newcastle was pint-sized Ernie Taylor, inside right. Taylor scored two of his team's goals and gave the crowd a thrill with his nifty footwork.

Whittaker Leads North Shore Reds To Soccer Title

VANCOUVER (CP) — North Shore Reds' robust centre forward, Fred Whittaker, personally led his mates to the Coast Soccer League championship here Saturday afternoon, scoring all four goals as Reds defeated New Westminster Royals 4 to 1 before 2,000 fans. Reds captured the first game of a best-of-three series 4 to 1.

It was one of the poorest exhibitions of football seen this season. Both clubs seemed content to boot the ball upfield come what may.

Royals showed some fine passing plays in midfield but when it came to scoring, they just didn't have the necessary polish. Minus inside forward Dave Brown, the Reds tried to play football but couldn't get under way.

CUP PLAY STARTS

The Provincial Cup competition will get under way this week with St. Andrews battling Vancouver City Wednesday night in the quarter-finals. Winners of this match travel to Victoria where they're slated to meet that city's Canadian Legion club Saturday afternoon in one half of the semi-final.

In the draw for the Dominion competition, Victoria's Canadian Legion drew South Hill of the V. and D. League. The contest is tentatively slated to be played in the Capital City on July 1.

Unveil Plaques For Five Greats At Baseball Shrine

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Five plaques were to be put in place today at the National Baseball Hall of Fame commemorating two heroes of olden days and three modern greats.

Honored were Mordecai Peter Brown and Charles A. (Kid) Nichols, pitchers from baseball's misty past, and Herbert J. Pennock, Charles L. Gehringer and Harold J. (Pie) Traynor of more recent times.

Nichols and Brown were selected by the old timers' committee. Pennock and Traynor were voted in last year and Gehringer this year, by the baseball writers.

Unveiling of the five plaques brings to 58 the number on display in the Hall of Fame.

Patrick Back From Hockey Sessions

Returning from important hockey meetings at Montreal and New York, Lester Patrick arrived home over the week-end. Patrick, who recently secured the local franchise for the Pacific Coast Hockey League, stated he made numerous friendly contacts which he figured would bear fruit in the securing of players for the Victoria club.

Patrick also confirmed the report he is attempting to make a deal for the services of Bernie Strongman, well-known here for his performances with the Navy club during the war years.

Saturday's matches in the Victoria and District Cricket League saw Five C's turn back University Incogs 176 to 65 and Ex-R.A.F. mark up a 90 to 33 triumph over Oak Bay.

With Alan Griffin and Charlie Pugh retiring with scores of 72 and 38, respectively, the C's built up a handsome lead against the Incogs but just managed to win as their opponents nearly played out the time limit to force a draw. The last wicket fell with 10 minutes remaining.

Putting on 40 not out, Phil Neal was high bat for the Ex-R.A.F. Doug Day was the leading bowler by lifting eight wickets. Hobday of the Bays was their only member to reach double figures with 13.

Cleveland Strikes Back To Whip Yankees Twice

Something new has been added to Brooklyn Dodgers' stock in trade—a home-run punch. So far this year the Dodgers have belted 55 homers in 52 games.

Brooklyn's new-found medium of winning games has played havoc with Cincinnati and yesterday the league leaders exploded four in a pulverising 20 to 7 rout. The 20 runs were the most scored in one game by a major league team this season.

Gil Hodges and Billy Cox were the chief noisemakers. Each slammed a pair of homers. Hodges drove home eight runs and Cox six in the 13-hit rampage against seven Red pitchers.

The second-place St. Louis Cardinals split with Philadelphia Phillies, winning the opener, 7 to 3, and dropping the nightcap, 8 to 3. The third-place Boston Braves divided with Chicago Cubs, copping the second game, 2 to 0 after losing the first, 6 to 2.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen stopped the Phils in the first game on five hits and would have had a shutout but for Andy Seminick who tagged a three-run first-inning homer. Curt Simmons was the losing pitcher.

HITS TWO HOMERS

Seminick carried his home run bat into the finale, blasting two into the seats and driving home four runs to make Robin Roberts' seventh victory a breeze.

The Cubs, bossed for the last time by Charley Grimm, combined a five-run first inning against Johnny Sain and brilliant pitching by rookie Warren Hacker to upset the Braves in the first game. Hacker allowed only one hit after taking over from Johnny Schmitz in the first inning with none out. Johnny Antonelli outpitched Dutch Leonard in the second game. Antonelli permitted only four singles.

Ralph Kiner smashed his 14th homer of the season in the seventh to give Pittsburgh Pirates a 6 to 5 nod over New York Giants and Rip Sewell his third victory.

Cleveland Indians put a crimp in the pennant ambitions of New York Yankees, taking both ends of a twin bill from the American League pace-setters, 6 to 0 and 3 to 1. Detroit Tigers swept a bargain bill from the Washington Senators 9 to 0 and 6 to 5. Bob Lemon shut out the Yanks on six blows and walloped a two-run homer in besting lefty Ed Lopat in the opener. The whitewash was the first suffered by the Yanks in 113 games.

Rookie Mike Garcia came up with a three-hitter in the nightcap, called in the eighth because of rain. Lou Boudreau homered for one of the four hits allowed by Tommy Byrne.

SEVENTH FOR NEWHOUSER

Hal Newhouser let the Senators down with four hits in turning in his seventh victory in the opener at Detroit. The Tigers led a four-run first inning, including a two-run homer by Hoot Evers.

The Tigers won the second game in the ninth when rookie Johnny Groth slammed a bases-loaded double off Paul Calvert.

Boston's Red Sox pulled into a fourth-place tie with the Nats, one-half game back of third-place Philadelphia Athletics by downing Chicago White Sox twice, 15 to 3 and 7 to 5.

Home runs by Birdie Tebbetts, Vern Stephens and Bobby Doerr permitted lefty Mel Parnell to coast to his eighth truimph in the first game. The Sox won the second with a three-run blast in the ninth.

Eagles Turn Back Navy In Senior Baseball Fixture

Eagles moved a step closer in their drive to vacate the Senior Amateur Baseball League cellar yesterday by turning back the third-place Navy club, 9 to 6.

Battle for first place continues tonight when Pitzer and Nex tackle Boosters at Beacon Hill commencing at 6.30.

Veteran Stan Davies toed the rubber for the birdmen Sunday, gaining credit for his first win of the season against two setbacks. He gave up eight hits, took four on strikes and walked seven. His opponent, Geoff Worrall was nicked for 12 hits as the Eagles began to find their batting eyes. Worrall fanned eight and issued three walks.

Losers started off in the first inning with an unearned tally, but Eagles came back with two in their half. Rookie Wright led off with a towering two-bagger and scored on an infield out and Denny Fawcett's base knock. Fawcett stole second and scored on Toad Garnet's base drive.

Lead was short-lived, however, as the Navy came back with a trio in the top of the second while limiting winners to a singleton to take the lead 4 to 3.

WINNING RUNS

A hit batsman, walk and Doug Hyslop's safety gave navy a two-run bulge in the fifth, but the birdmen came back with four in their half for what proved to be the winning runs.

Sailors added a singleton in the eighth while winners scored once in each of the seventh and eighth frames.

Ron Castner of Eagles paced the hitters with three for four while Rookie Wright and Worrall each had three for five.

Short score:	R.	H.	E.
Navy	6	8	6
Eagles	9	12	2

Easter Plays Havoc With Hollywood Club

The Hollywood Stars are thankful for Luke Easter's terrific box-office power but his batting power—Oh! No!

The San Diego Padres' giant negro first baseman made it a very unhappy week-end for the Stars. On Saturday night, his double and homer accounted for five Padre runs and a 7 to 5 win over the Pacific Coast League leaders.

Sunday, Easter slammed his 22nd and 23rd homer in each of two games to pace the Padres' double win, 7 to 5 and 5 to 2, over the Stars. Some 12,364 fans saw Sunday's twin bill, second largest crowd in Gilmore Field history. Total attendance for the series was 61,010, a new home record for the Stars. The double win gave San Diego the series 4 to 3, the first home series loss this season for the Stars.

The amazing Portland Beavers stretched their winning streak to five games in taking a pair from San Francisco. The first game was a 13-inning affair and the second seven innings. The scores, 5 to 4 and 3 to 2.

SACS WIN PAIR

Frankie Dasso racked up his ninth win of the season and Orval Grove his second as the Sacramento Solons took a pair from the Oakland Acorns. The Solons' 3 to 2 first game win came on Al White's double and rookie Bill Wilson's homer in the ninth. The second game went 3 to 1.

In the day's only split, Seattle took Los Angeles 1 to 0 in the opener and lost 10 to 2 in the nightcap. The Angels belted five homers in the second game, Clarence Madden bagging two. Charlie Schanz chalked up his 12th win of the year for the Rainiers in the curtain raiser.

St. Louis Cardinals' Chain Still Pays Off

NEW YORK (AP)—St. Louis Cardinals' fabulous farm system, founded by Branch Rickey back in the roaring 20s, still is paying off 100 per cent after 30 years.

It didn't look that way a few months ago. The Cards got off to a miserable start, with such veterans as Marty Marion, Enos Slaughter, Howie Pollet, Red Munger and Harry Brecheen stumbling along in sub-par fashion.

Critics blamed the club's plight on the failure of the Cards to bring up suitable replacements.

The criticism did not sit well with Fred Saigh, new owner of the Redbirds. He offered a list of promising newcomers as proof that the St. Louis club still was developing as many home-grown athletics as any other club in the majors.

It now develops that Saigh was right and the critics wrong.

The current Cardinals roster includes such fine youngsters as Eddie Kazak, Tommy Glaviano, Gerald Staley, Glen Nelson, Chuck Diering and Hal Rice. All are rookies except Staley and Diering, both sophomores. All began in class D Redbird chains and worked their way up.

Aces In Third Place; Blast Students 16-4

Slamming out a 16 to 4 victory over Chinese Students at Central Park Sunday afternoon, Rom Knott's Brentwood Aces took over third place in the Senior A Men's Softball League, while shoving the Students into fourth spot.

On Saturday the Students edged last-place Bluebird Cabs, 13 to 12, to take a momentary hold on the third-place position.

Aces took a 4 to 0 lead in the first inning, only to have Students tie the score in the second with another four-run outburst. A single marker in the third gave Brentwood what proved to be the winning run, but the suburbanites ran wild in the final four innings for 11 tallies, highlighted by six runs in the eighth stanza.

FIVE-HITTER

Manager Rom Knott went all the way on the mound for the winners and was in trouble in only one inning — the second — when Chinese scored all their runs. He gave up five hits.

Ronnie Benn and Bill Benn each hit two-run homers for the Aces in the first stanza.

On Saturday at Nanaimo, Aces defeated Eagle Hotel twice, 7 to 1 and 7 to 2. Winning pitchers were Brian Sluggett and John Furmston.

Tonight Brentwood meets Timber Service in a league fixture at Central Park at 6.45.

Short score of Sunday's game follows:

Brentwood Aces	16	13	2
Chinese Students	4	5	2

Underdogs Steal Limelight At Langford Auto Race Meet

While the main event at Langford Speedway auto races Saturday provided its usual quota of thrills with Vern Bruce booting home the winner, it was in two of the heat races that the crowd got some extra excitement.

In both the second and third 10-lap heat events, with eventual winners sitting away out in front, drivers in the second and third positions put on a hub-to-hub exhibition, which stole the show.

They were hugging each other so closely at one point that parts began flying off one of the cars and a hub cap went spinning into the air like a flying saucer.

And speaking of flying saucers, Buck Rogers in his low No. 5 job which carries that nickname, had a big night winning the second heat and placing third in the fourth heat.

THREE FAST LAPS

Master mechanic Jack Smith had Bruce's No. 36 rear-engine car tuned to perfection after trouble at the previous race meet, and the little black car chalked up three fast laps in time trials —17.87, 17.97 and 17.94.

Jack Spaulding in the No. 1 drove the fastest single lap, though—17.62—and he won the Helmet Dash.

The little man was forced to drop out of the first heat with oil pressure trouble which later put him out of the main event on the 21st lap after he had led the pack from the fifth lap.

Bruce's car slipped out of gear in the first heat and he lost all chance of placing.

SIDE BY SIDE

Back to those two hair-raising heat races, it was George Hutchinson in No. 10 and Corky Thomas in No. 27 who rocketed around the track side by side the whole way.

Hutchinson placed second and Thomas third.

In the third heat race a duplicate performance was staged by Dave Cooper in No. 25 and Bob Simpson in No. 6. Simpson stole it. He gunned it, coming into the stretch, and passed Cooper on the outside to take the second spot by a radiator. Bruce won the event.

Simpson won the first heat with Cooper second and Eddie Kostenuk in No. 22 third.

Brownie Brown in No. 9 won the fourth with Thomas second and Rogers third.

Kostenuk won an Australian pursuit race which preceded the main event. Bung Eng in No. 7 started in last position and eliminated Simpson and Cooper but couldn't catch Kostenuk who started first.

12 CARS START

Twelve cars started the main event. Kostenuk held the lead the first four laps until Spaulding moved in. Bruce took over second from Kostenuk on seventh lap and stayed up there to move into first when Spaulding's car went sour and he had to drag into the pits.

Finishing second to Bruce was Simpson. Third was Cooper, fourth Brown, fifth Thomas and sixth Gar Warren in No. 11.

They were the only cars to finish.

During the evening both the No. 3 car, driven by Pike Green, and Eng's No. 7 threw rods through the block, which means new engines for both.

Green is scheduled next week to drive the No. 12 car of George Haslam and Smilling Ben, which is being rebuilt completely.

Snead Fires 62-63 For Tournament Win

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Sammy Snead, who didn't have quite enough steam to win the national open golf tournament, was certainly hot Sunday.

Slammin' Sammy negotiated the South Side Country Club in 62-63—125, 17 strokes under par, to cop first prize and $500 in the Dectaur invitational golf meet.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—Theoretically, a man who manages a maor league baseball club should be able to teach his athletes to play ball . . . but when it comes to hitting, it can't be done, says the St. Louis Cardinals' Eddie Dyers. . . . "People often ask me 'why don't you teach soandso to hit?" Eddie explained the other day. "But I can show a fellow how to swing exactly like Stan Musial, how to keep his shoulders level and not to overstride and all the rest and still he can't hit. It's a matter of co-ordination of mind and muscle."

Another of Dyer's theories is that a major leaguer should hit for extra bases on 30 per cent of his blows. And for one eample he picked Marv Rackley, the "sore-arm" returnee to the Brooklyn Dodgers. "It doesn't matter much whether he has a good arm or not," Eddie expounded. "The point is that he can hit .300 but never could become a regular. You can stand a man who can't throw a lick if he can hit enough into the stands for you."

STROKE AND DISTANCE

When venerable Bobby Cruickshank came in with the leaders on the first day of the Open Golf championship this year, some of the old-timers recalled a shot Bobby made in the 1934 open. . . . It was on the 11th hole at Merion that Cruickshank smacked a shot into the creek in front of the green. . . . His ball hit a rock, bounded out and came to rest on the green. . . . Bobby tossed his club high in the air, tipped his cap and breathed a not-too-silent prayer of thanks. . . . Just then the club came down and smacked him right on the head.

CLAIMS WORLD RECORD

PRAGUE (AP)—The Czechoslovakia radio announced Saturday night that Emil Zatopek, the Olympic 10,000-meters champion, has broken the world record for that distance by seven seconds.

His time, the radio reported, was 29 minutes 28.2 seconds. The listed mark is 29.35.4 by Viljo Heino of Finland at Helsinki in 1944.

Italian Net Team Gains Semifinals In Davis Cup Play

LONDON (CP)—Italy Sunday advanced to the semifinal round of the European zone's Davis Cup play by eliminating Chile, 4 to 1.

In the two other matches, Czechoslovakia rallied to defeat France's doubles team to remain in the running, and Yugoslavia took a one-match lead over Sweden.

Italy was assured of a berth in the semifinals when Gianni Cucelli defeated Ricardo Balbiers, 6-4, 8-6, 7-5.

Italy will meet the winner of the Yugoslavia-Sweden series which was postponed because of rain after Y. Pallada downed Lennart Bergelin of Sweden, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3.

The Czech team, now only one game away from elimination, rallied from two surprising defeats Saturday to take their Sunday doubles match with France. Jaroslav Drobny and Vladimir Cernik, who lost the singles Saturday, fought back to take the doubles from Marcel Bernard and Henri Bolelli, 4-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4.

Hungary advanced to the semifinal round Saturday when it completed a 5 to 0 rout of Switzerland.

Briton Clicks Off Mile Run In 4.11.1

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — A track and field team from Princeton and Cornell Saturday turned back the combined forces of Oxford and Cambridge, 9 to 4, but the Britons trotted out the most spectacular performer of the meet, a 20-year-old miler named Roger Bannister.

The long, lean Oxonian, captain of the invaders, won the mile by 30 yards in the creditable time of 4.11.1, second fastest in the United States this year.

Bannister's mates could win only three other of the 13 events.

Blame Jockey Brooks For Ponder's Defeat

NEW YORK (AP) — Ponder prepared to depart today for Chicago, leaving behind him Capot and Palestinian and a mild controversy over the Belmont Stakes.

It will go down in the records as a sweet $60,900 victory for Capot, the Greentree Stable's three-year-old ace. But many in the crowd of 40,421 at Belmont Park Saturday especially those who established the Calumet colt the 4 to 5 favorite—thought Ponder should have taken it, as he did the Kentucky Derby.

They say jockey Steve Brooks waited too long this time to make his move. As it was, Ponder was coming like an express at the finish, only to be beaten off a half-length by Capot—with jockey Ted Atkinson of Toronto up—who returned $13.20 for $2.

Ponder flew past the tiring Palestinian in the final few jumps to grab second place by half a length over Isidor Bieber's ace, second choice in the betting. Capot was third choice.

These three, who have been slugging it out all spring in the triple crown classics, were the only ones in the Belmont as far as a horse race was concerned.

The other five, Sun Bahram, Halt, Old Rockport, Saint Nicholas and Engel Man — finished in that order—were just along for the ride.

Clarkson, Beck In Smart Hill Chores

Brilliant pitching by Poodle Dog Cafe's John Clarkson and Eagles' Paul Beck highlighted Sunday's Minor Baseball Association games.

Clarkson threw a one-hitter at Fletcher's Men's Shop in the first game of their twin bill, emerging as the winner in Poodle Dog's 2 to 1 triumph over the clothiers.

Beck, outstanding junior player of last year, allowed but two hits in blanking Ace Woodworkers, 8 to 0, in the second game of the other doubleheader. He struck out 13. Woodworkers won the first game, 4 to 2.

A three-run homer by Leo Kozak in the last half of the seventh inning gave Poodle Dog Cafe an 8 to 7 victory in the second game against Fletchers and a sweep of the two-game set.

308 TENNIS ENTRIES

VANCOUVER (CP)—Close to 50 matches were run off Sunday as the Vancouver and district tennis matches got under way. A grand total of 308 entries are registered with more prominent players slated to get into action later in the week-long affair.

Third Battle Of Ypres Won 33 Years Ago Today

June 13 is a memorable day for Canadians since it was on this date, 33 years ago, that troops from this Dominion fought and won what history books call the Third Battle of Ypres.

Surviving members of the Canadian Mounted Rifles, the Royal Canadian Regiment, Princess Patricia's Light Infantry and Canadian Infantry recall June 13, 1916, somewhat sadly but with considerable pride.

They are sad because they remember the many who died fighting at their side. They are proud because of the great victory.

The Third Battle of Ypres commenced June 3 with the launching of a counter-attack against the Germans at 7 in the morning. Canadians won a foothold; then, proceeded systematically to bomb their way ahead. The advance was difficult as attackers had to face machine-gun fire and artillery bombardment.

A German counter-attack was launched later in the day and Maj.-Gen. Mercer and Brig.-Gen. Williams of the 3rd Canadian Division were captured. Mercer violently resisted being taken prisoner, and was bayoneted.

From June 4 to June 12, fighting was mostly limited to artillery. Occasional small raids were tried by both sides but none were of great importance.

Monday, June 12, was an uneventful day, with only a heavy bombardment between Hill 60 and Hooge. Bombardment continued to 1.30 a.m. on the 13th.

The night was cold, wet and dark. As the artillery fire lifted, infantrymen charged forward. The enemy poured out a severe barrier of fire to prevent the approach of the Canadians but so great was their impetuosity that they pushed through it and quickly gained their objective before the sun rose.

The men at once set about consolidating their position, and, although subjected to very heavy artillery fire during the next 24 hours, clung bravely to their position.

All Injured In Two Lower Island Crashes Recovering

King's Daughters Hospital at Duncan and Resthaven Hospital at Sidney reported today that all six persons injured in a pair of lower island accidents between Friday night and Saturday morning, are recovering.

Two doctors are attending four of five survivors in a two-vehicle crash shortly before midnight Friday on the Island Highway a few miles south of Duncan, in which two hitch-hiking youths were instantly killed.

Still in the hospital are Oliver Fortin, Shawnigan Lake; Mrs. Amelia Fortin and her four-year-old son, Ronald of 574 Bay Street, Victoria, and Stanley Dyke Jr. of Crofton.

Provincial Police report an inquest will be held into the death of the two boys, Erwin Kopf and Raymond Pickett, both 19, of Cowichan Station.

Only survivor in the sedan in which the two boys were killed was the driver, Dyke. The other four persons hospitalized were in a car reported to have been parked when the crash came. Mrs. Eyvon Fortin was released from hospital Saturday.

Resthaven Hospital reported that one of the two sailors from the government lighthouse tender Estevan, injured when the car they were in turned over on East Saanich Road, three miles north of Sidney Saturday morning, has been released from hospital.

Camille Jeonesse was discharged Sunday night. Still in hospital and reported to be suffering from a fractured arm and numerous bruises is Raymond Cote, said to have been the driver.

The classes are sponsored at Central Junior High School by the Parent-Teacher Council of Greater Victoria. Model Planes Lost In Stiff Breeze

Two model airplanes are still lost following a Victoria Model Airplane League contest at Lansdowne Field Sunday. One model has been found. Mr. F. A. Robinson of Lansdowne Road phoned Bill Gelling to say he had found the flyaway plane in his garden. The two still unaccounted for are owned by Andy Rittich and Fred Kingshot. Both lads have their phone numbers and names on the planes and hope they will be found and returned to the young model builders.

Bill Gelling of Oak Bay club made the day's high points, winning tow-line glider, stick model and cabin model classes to pile up 29 points and jump from fourth to first in the junior standing; Alan Bayne is second.

Dick Chisholm retained his lead in the senior division, winning tow-line glider. He has 89 points and is followed by Ian Douglas with 78 points.

Rod McLeod won Wakefield and tow-line glider and leads the open class with 125 points. Jack Barnes is second-place winner.

A stiff breeze caused many planes to drift out of the field and many people were surprised to find a model airplane floating down in their gardens.

The next meet will be a control-line meet at Oak Bay High School grounds when the speed and stunt flyers will compete for points.

Strawberries Near Peak

Builders Complain Restrictions Hampering Homebuilding Here

Contractors complained today the present system of financing homes, as well as certain building restrictions, was hampering the construction and sale of hundreds of homes in Greater Victoria.

Homeseekers were unable to buy homes because they could not make large down payments and were unable to raise large enough loans to finance a home, they said. It was becoming difficult, as a result, to sell newly constructed homes.

"Several builders complained they had between one or two new homes for sale on the market but were unable to find people with sufficient money to buy. 'I've had two homes on the market for three months,' said one contractor. 'They are still empty.'"

Contractors blamed the conditions on the system of financing.

It was pointed out that the majority of wage-earners today could only afford between $1,000 and $1,500 to put down on a home. They were unable to raise large enough loans to make up the difference.

"There is no reason why a person with $1,000 should not be able to finance a home," said one contractor. "In Britain a man can buy a permanent home with only $100 down-payment. They have building societies which help the average wage-earner to buy a house.

One contractor said loaning companies were asking for too much security. "As long as the present system prevails there is going to be a housing shortage," he said.

Builders also said building restrictions in certain areas in Greater Victoria prevented the construction of homes less than 1,000 square feet in area.

"You can build an ugly box-shape house with a floor area of 1,500 square feet," they said, "but you can't build a well-designed house of 500 square feet."

Builders said there were hundreds of elderly couples who would be ready to buy three-room homes if these could be constructed in certain districts.

"It is not because they haven't the money to buy larger homes," said one contractor, "but because a small home is sufficient for their needs."

He pointed out that a small home with an area of 500 square feet could be designed to look like a $25,000 home. The homes could be built for $4,000.

Homes like these would be ideal for elderly couples or people without children," he said. "They would also alleviate the housing shortage in Victoria."

B.C. Potato Acreage Slightly Greater This Year Than Last

The Provincial Agriculture Department today reported a slight increase in the potato acreage for British Columbia this year.

The department reported 13,206 acres had been planted. This compares with 13,015 acres planted in 1948.

No difference in plantings for the Vancouver Island and lower mainland areas was reported. The island acreage is 400 early and 2,200 late.

In the Okanagan district early potato acreage is down about 100 acres, while the late potato acreage is up by about 200 acres.

A slight increase in the tomato acreage in the Okanagan district is also reported. The department estimates the acreage this year at 3,698 compared witn 3,543 for 1948. Elsewhere in the province the tomato acreage is unchanged.

While onion plantings are down by 110 acres in the Okanagan district, a 30-acre increase is recorded for other districts.

Cucumber plantings in the Okanagan district are unchanged, but in the lower mainland area are up by 50 acres. A 31-acre gain in cabbage plantings is reported for the Okanagan, and a 50-acre gain for the lower mainland.

In the Okanagan, corn plantings are up from 22 to 39 acres. A gain from 1,225 acres last year to 1,275 this year is shown for the lower mainland area, while a 12-acre gain is reported from the Kootenay and Arrow Lakes district.

Government Adjusts Boundaries Of Two Island School Districts

Education Minister W. T. Straith today announced the adjustment of the boundaries of Cowichan and Ladysmith-Chemainus school districts.

Westholme and Crofton, which have been included in the Cowichan school district, will be transferred to the Ladysmith-Chemainus School district.

Some time ago ratepayers in the Ladysmith-Chemainus school district rejected a by-law to provide funds for a junior-senior high school at Ladysmith to which Chemainus school pupils would be taken. The Chemainus ratepayers were responsible for rejecting the by-law, the majority of them feeling that they did not want their children to be transported the 10 miles from Chemainus to Ladysmith.

The education department at the same time felt that there were not sufficient children of junior-senior high school age in the Chemainus area to have a junior-senior high school erected there.

With the redrawing of the school district boundaries it will be possible for the Ladysmith-Chemainus school district to proceed with its plans to erect a junior-senior high school at Ladysmith, while a junior high school, to which Crofton and Westholme students may be taken, now is warranted for Chemainus.

Chemainus students for the senior high school grades will be taken to Ladysmith.

A plea of not guilty was entered by William P. Barrett when he appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today and was charged with supplying an Indian, Elmer Aleck, with an intoxicant, loganberry wine, on Saturday. He was remanded to tomorrow for trial.

A plea of not guilty was entered today in city police court by John W. Sedgwick, Metchosin, to a charge of careless driving June 8 on Douglas Street. Charge was laid following an accident accused was involved in with 12-year-old Howard Hope, 1434 Government Street, a cyclist. James Proudfoot is appearing for Sedgwick.

Three-Way Fight For Victoria Seat

A three-way fight for the Victoria seat in the House of Commons on June 27 was assured today with the Union of Electors announcing that they would not sponsor a candidate.

Millard Lougheed, spokesman for the Union of Electors here, said no candidate would be run in the federal election in Victoria.

"The Union of Electors does not find it necessary to run a candidate," he said. "A united electorate will control the representative regardless of his party declaration."

Candidates who have already filed their nomination papers are: Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew, Liberal; Gordon A. Cameron, Progressive Conservative, and William Caird, C.C.F.

It is possible that the number of eligible voters for the Victoria federal constituency may top 47,000, compared with the 43,798 registered for the 1945 general election.

Sydney Child, returning officer, reported today that 46,286 had been registered, but the results of the court of revision had not yet been completely tabulated.

Object To Seaside Gospel Singers

Ronald Andrew, 809 Crescent Road, joined other complainants Sunday in objecting to a gospel group singing in the afternoons on Foul Bay Beach. Two weeks ago W. J. Nelson, 1817 Crescent Road, and Y. Vesey, 1610 Robertson Street, called for police intervention to stop the singers on the same beach. Constable Lyle Somers at that time identified them as the Ross Bay Gospel Singers.

Belita Skates In Championship Rink

Champion skaters of every nation have competed for honors or appeared in exhibitions at the Polar Palace in Hollywood, where the skating sequences for "The Hunted," Allied Artists' production co-starring Belita and Preston Foster, were filmed.

Scott R. Dunlap produced the film, now showing at the Plaza Theatre, and Jack Bernhard directed.

ODEON THEATRE

The dark, smooth, romantic-eyed film star, George Raft, who is always likened to Valentino, admits that he fought a long, tough battle from childhood to reach the top. Now, as star in a long succession of top Hollywood movies, and part owner with Samuel Bischoff of his own producing company, he feels that the battle was well worth fighting. Currently Raft can be seen in the thrilling French Foreign Legion drama, "Outpost in Morocco," a United Artists' release which is now at the Odeon Theatre.

RIO THEATRE

No picture in years has stirred up such interest as Warner Bros.' sensational drama, "Key Largo," which is currently at the Rio Theatre.

The brilliant cast has Humphrey Bogart, Edward G. Robinson, Lauren Bacall, Lionel Barrymore and Claire Trevor, five of Hollywood's greatest action personalities.

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

'Enchantment' Traces Love In Two Eras

With an unusual and appealing romantic theme, Samuel Goldwyn's production, "Enchantment," costars David Niven, Teresa Wright, Evelyn Keyes and Farley Granger, and also offers a notable supporting cast. It is now being shown at the Royal Theatre.

The RKO Radio release has its setting in a stately old home in London. The first of the two love affairs that motivate the action takes place around the turn of the century, and the second during World War II, with the two episodes linked together by the role played by Niven.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Mack "Killer" Grey, widely known as George Raft's bodyguard, plays a made-to-order role in M-G-M's new Technicolor musical, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," now being shown at the Capitol Theatre. His part is that of a bodyguard! Grey enacts the hardboiled protector of gambler Arnold Arnold, who tries to boss Frank Sinatra and Gene Kelly in the baseball story. The new tuner has Esther Williams and Betty Garrett in an all-star cast.

Exciting Finish In Lightning Race At Yacht Club Saturday

In one of the most exciting finishes in some time at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club Saturday, R. Moore, in his lightning Hyak, sneaked over the finish line as the two other craft which had been fighting for the lead throughout the race were jockeying for a finishing position.

Hyak's time was 4.55.15, 55 seconds better than Grant MacKinnon in Iona, which took runner-up spot over Eric Dowell's Ariel. Ariel's time was 4.56.20—just 10 seconds behind that of Iona.

The exciting race, course for which was twice around Fiddle Reef, was one of the events of the first of the Staurday afternoon series at the yacht club.

EXCHANGE LEAD

Throughout the race, Ariel and Iona had been exchanging the lead. It was the last beat to the finish line, with the two leaders jockeying, tack by tack, for the No. 1 spot, that the Hyak, choosing a course clear of her two rivals, crept in for first money.

Other boat in the race was D. Roberts' Tabu, which had a time of 5.05.

F. Harley's Bip took top honors in the comet race over the same course in 5.09.30. Second and third places were taken by Sprite (K. Johnson) and Stardust (G. Nickells) in 5.16.30 and 5.26.06, respectively.

Sailing a shorter course, were two snipes. Stormy (Miss V. McConaghy) and Whitewings (N. Scott-Moncrieff) did the course in 4.06 and 4.20.15, respectively.

First War Gunners Yarn, Sing In Celebrating 32nd Anniversary

Left to right, back row: Ralph Cruickshanks, secretary of the association; Lt.-Col. R. D. Travis, Gordon A. Cameron, Lt.-Col. George Paulin, Inspector Robert Owens, Archie H. Gibbs, J. A. Hibberson, George Kenneth and E. H. King, president of the association; front row, Lt.-Col. Vincent McKenna and Detective Henry Jarvis. All are Victorians with the exception of George Kenneth, who is from Duncan.

Seventy-eight veterans who manned 18-pounders and 4.5 guns in the First World War, gathered in the Armories Saturday night to celebrate the 32nd anniversary of their departure from Victoria for overseas service. They were members of the 15th Brigade Association C.F.A.

E. H. King, president of the association, presided, but the formal inspection, after the "Fall in," was conducted by George Lomas, who held the title of "Field Marshal" for the evening. Lomas was a gunner with the 58th Battery in the First War and shoemaker for the Fifth Regiment during the Second War, during which he and his staff repaired 36,000 pairs of shoes.

Members of the association came here from various towns, and letters and telegrams were read from many who could not come. Mr. Justice Locke, member of the Supreme Court of Canada, sent his best wishes from Ottawa. Dr. John S. Helmcken of Santa Ana, Calif., Dan McBrady of San Francisco and Harry H. Boyle of Penticton were sorry they could not attend but promised to be at the next one. The two former gunners, now serving as missionaries, Alan McIntosh in the Belgian Congo, and Percy E. Wills with the mission boat Messenger III, were also mentioned as having sent their regards.

The oldest and youngest members of the unit were in attendance. They were L. S. Fowkes, now in his 82nd year, who was orderly room sergeant of the 58th Battery, and Davy Donaldson, who was trumpeter with the battery.

The rum issue was carried out with due ceremony and the men marched to their seats at the banquet table to the strains of their theme song "Oh, Petawawa." During the evening the full song, with its many verses, conducted by Inspector Bob Owens, who composed it during the days the association was training at Petawawa, Ont.

The formal speech making was limited but the impromptu story telling was unrestricted. Bill Hudson conducted the rapid-fire singsong.

Dr. J. M. Fowler, who was medical officer for the brigade, proposed the toast to "The Brigade" and it was responded to by Lt.-Col. V. McKenna, who served as a lieutenant with the unit.

17 More Seats To Be Filled

By Canadian Press

A field of upwards of 875 candidates for the June 27 federal election was indicated today as official nominations closed across the country at 3 p.m., local daylight time.

The probable total is considerably short of the record of 954 candidates in the 1945 general election.

There were 245 Commons seats open in the 1945 contest. This time there are 262. The increase of 17 results from seven new Commons membership for Newfoundland and 10 for new ridings created in 1947.

As nominations rolled in from across the country, there was a flurry of last-minute entries in Quebec. There were fewer latecomers in other provinces.

Previously, unofficial tabulations had placed the total at 800 or more.

Nominations closed first in Newfoundland, entering the Dominion campaign for the first time, and the lists showed 15 candidates in that virgin political field. The Liberals and the Progressive Conservatives nominated seven each and the C.C.F., the only other party running there, one.

2-PARTY FIGHT

This made a straight two-party fight in all of Newfoundland's seven seats except in St. John's West, where the lone C.C.F.er was opposing one Liberal and one Progressive Conservative.

Thirty-five candidates were nominated for Nova Scotia's 13 seats, including 13 Liberals, 13 Progressive Conservatives and nine C.C.F. standard-bearers. They included Reconstruction Minister Winters, who sat for Queens-Lunenburg in the last House.

The New Brunswick total — with 10 seats at stake—rose to 29, with a last C.C.F. entry. There were 10 Liberals, 10 Progressive Conservatives and six C.C.F. Veterans' Minister Gregg was nominated again in York-Sunbury.

The New Brunswick candidates include Maj.-Gen. H. N. Ganong, running as a Progressive Conservative in Charlotte.

British Scientists Had Way To Beat Nazi V-2 Rockets

LONDON (AP) — British scientists found a way to blow some of Germany's V-2 rockets out of the skies just before the end of the war, General Sir Frederick Pile discloses in his memoirs.

The plan was not tried out, however, because Nazi rocket firing points were captured before it could be used.

Britain's wartime commander-in-chief of the anti-aircraft command writes about the defence against rockets in a book called "Ack-Ack, the memoirs of Sir Frederick Pile."

It will be published in Britain this September by George G. Harrap and Son of London.

The German rockets travelled at a height of about 60 miles with a speed of 3,500 miles an hour.

"Even now I may not give details of our scheme," General Pile writes, "but obviously it entailed predicting the point of fall of the rockets and firing the London guns to burst their shells in their path."

Fire Destroys Home In Saanich

Efforts of Saanich firemen, berry pickers and farmers failed to extinguish a fire which this afternoon caught on in the kitchen of the converted army hut home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Leno on Mount Newton Cross Road in the Keating district.

At press time, flames from the Leno home were shooting high into the air and there was no chance of saving the building.

The fire started in the kitchen of the house. Mrs. Leno had left some parawax on an electric hot-plate while she went to supervise pickers in her strawberry field.

Mrs. Leno returned to find the kitchen ablaze. The five-room home was converted several years ago from an army barracks.

The Lenos have some insurance on the building. Mr. Leno has been in Royal Jubilee Hospital for a month suffering from a heart complaint.

Mother Of Missing Quebec Boy Questioned By Police

EASTMAN, Que. (CP) — Mrs. Charles Fontaine and one of her eight children were brought here today by Provincial Police for questioning in connection with the disappearance May 30 of a six-year-old son, Michel.

Two provincial police officers, who arrived here with a squad from Montreal headquarters to visit the isolated Fontaine farm, brought the mother and her eldest son to the Mount Orford Hotel in a police car.

The police squad arrived as reports were heard that the body of Michel, object of the greatest search in Eastern Townships' history, had been found.

Farmer Charles Fontaine, the father, however, denied the reports, describing them as "lies and rumors."

The police squad, headed by Dr. Rosario Fontaine, provincial medico-legal expert, declined to comment on developments in the case.

Recover Body Of Yorkton, Sask., Man Off Breakwater

Body of Alfred V. Quinn, sheriff of Yorkton, Sask., was found floating in the waters off the breakwater at 11.30 this morning by employees of the B.C. Pilotage, 200 Dallas Road.

They called city police after sighting the body and Constables James Strong and Deans Blackstock attended.

Police said the body which appeared to have been in the water only a short time, was being taken out to sea by the outgoing tide. A watch in the dead man's pocket had stopped at 11 o'clock.

The body was turned over to B.C. Police and was taken to Sands Mortuary Ltd.

The 22-year-old son of a late Wall Street broker had pleaded guilty in a U.S. military government court to a charge of entering the U.S. zone of Germany illegally.
